REPORT

OF THE

SECRETARY OF STATE OF CANADA

FOR THE

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1906.

To His Excellency the Right Honourable Sir Albert Henry George, Earl Grey, G.C.M.G., &c., &c., &c., Governor General of Canada.

My Lord,—I have the honour to lay before Your Excellency a statement showing the operations of the Department of the Secretary of State for the year ended December 31, 1906.

The steady increase in the work of the department has been well maintained during the twelve months now closed. As for some years past, this has been especially marked in respect of the incorporation of companies under the Companies Act, the number of charters issued—including supplementary charters—having been 374, as compared with 293 in the year 1905. The total capitalization of new companies was $180,173,075, and the capital of existing companies was increased by $32,403,000, a total of $212,576,075, nearly double that of the preceding year, when the total was $109,595,900. The following table shows the total capitalization of companies incorporated under The Companies Act in each year from 1900:—

Year.	Authorized Capital of New Companies.	Increased Capital of Existing Companies.	Total.
1900	9,558,900	3,351,000	12,909,900
1901	7,662,552	3,420,000	11,082,552
1902	51,182,850	5,055,000	56,237,850
1903	83,405,340	5,854,520	89,259,860
1904	80,597,752	3,366,000	83,963,752
1905	99,910,900	9,685,000	109,595,900
1906	180,173,075	32,403,000	212,576,075
	$512,491,369	$63,134,520	$575,625,859

Particulars as to the objects, powers, capital stock, &c., of the companies incorporated during the year will be found, as usual in the report of the Deputy Registrar General, Appendix A.

My report for last year and that of the preceding year included a list of all companies to which charters had been granted under the various Joint Stock Companies Acts of Canada as far back as 1821 to the close of the respective years. That list is not contained in the present report. It will, however, be repeated and brought up to date in my next report, which will be issued on the first of April, 1908, instead of the first of January, so that, hereafter, my reports may agree with the fiscal year, instead of the calendar year as in the past.

REVENUE.

The revenue of the department, mainly derived from fees upon charters and supplementary charters, increased from $76,512.65 in 1905, to $108,913.10, a gain of $32,400.45; the expectation expressed in my last report that the revenue would reach $100,000, being thus more than justified. The foregoing figures are for the calendar year and are given as usual in addition to those for the fiscal year, which will be found in the customary statement of revenue and expenditure which forms part of this report.

THE NATURALIZATION ACT.

The semi-annual returns made to my department by some four hundred officers of various courts of law throughout the Dominion, giving the number of naturalizations effected in the district in which the court is situated, with full particulars as to the previous nationality of each new subject, &c., &c., have been made with commendable promptness in nearly all cases, and the returns, which will be found in Appendix A, are now complete to June 30 last; those for the six months ended December 31, of course, not being yet received.

CANADA TEMPERANCE ACT.

Three elections were held under the Canada Temperance Act during the year, all in Prince Edward Island and upon petitions for the revocation of the Order in Council which brought the Act into force, the object being to substitute the Provincial Act. In every case the petition was carried by a large majority, the detailed result of the elections being as follows:—

County.	Date.	For Petition (against Act).	Against Petition (for Act).
Prince	Feb. 1, 1906..	3,074	1,810
King's	May 10, 1906..	1,547	203
Queen's	June 7, 1906..	1,571	214

At the close of the year 1906 the Canada Temperance Act was in force in the following counties:—

Nova Scotia.	New Brunswick.	Manitoba.
Annapolis.	Albert.	Lisgar.
Cape Breton.	Carleton.	Marquette.
Cumberland.	Charlotte.
Digby.	Fredericton.
Guysborough.	King's.
Hants.	Northumberland.
Inverness.	Queen's.
King's.	Sunbury.
Pictou.	Westmoreland.
Queen's.	York.
Shelburne.
Yarmouth.

The Act is not in force anywhere in any of the other provinces or territories.

LIBRARY OF REFERENCE.

Very satisfactory progress has been made during the year in the arrangement and classification of the official records since Confederation, and all official publications received from the Imperial Government and from the various dependencies of the Empire, as well as those from foreign countries, are now catalogued and an index has been begun. The library has received a number of valuable additions since my last report.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENDITURE.

In accordance with the usual practice, the statement of revenue of my department is for the fiscal year ended June 30 last, in order that the figures may agree with those published in the Report of the Auditor General.

The increase over the amount collected in the last previous year is $30,165.15, the figures being $95,754.80, as compared with $65,589.65 in 1904-5, and exceeding the ordinary expenditure of the department by more than forty-one thousand dollars.

The statement of fees received during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906, is as follows:—

Charters, supplementary charters and licenses	$93,626 00
Commissions	525 00
Passports	676 00
Certified copies	516 00
Certificates of incorporation	105 00
Certificates of deposit	61 50
Exemplifications	20 00
Certificates of legalization	30 00
Copies	80 00
Searches	25 80
Certificates	43 50
Sundries	46 00
	$95,754 80

Out of the above amount the sum of $10,052.10 was transferred to the King's Printer for advertising notices of letters patent under the Companies Act in the Canada Gazette.

REGULATIONS RESPECTING PASSPORTS.

1. Applications for passports should be made in writing and enclosed in a cover addressed to 'The Honourable the Secretary of State, Ottawa.'

2. The charge for a passport, whatever number of persons may be named in it, is four dollars. The fee payable must accompany the application. Postage stamps will not be received as payment.

3. Passports are granted only to British-born subjects or to persons naturalized in the Dominion of Canada. A married woman is deemed to be a subject of the state of which her husband is for the time being a subject. Passports are not limited in point of time but are available for any time or for any number of journeys to foreign countries. When a party is a naturalized British subject he will be so designated in his passport.

4. Passports are granted to all persons either known to the Secretary of State or recommended to him by some person who is known to him: or upon the production of a declaration by the applicant, a blank form of which may be obtained at the Department of the Secretary of State, verified by a declaration made by any banking firm or by any mayor, magistrate, justice of the peace, minister of religion, physician, surgeon, solicitor, or notary resident in the Dominion of Canada. In certain cases, the applicant's certificate of birth must be produced in addition to the declaration.

5. If the applicant for a passport be a naturalized British subject, his certificate of naturalization must be forwarded to the Department of the Secretary of State, with the declaration; and his certificate of naturalization will be returned with the passport to the person who may have verified the declaration, in order that he may cause such naturalized British subject to sign the passport in his presence.

6. A passport cannot be issued by the Department of the Secretary of State on behalf of a person already abroad; such person should apply for one to the nearest British Mission or Consulate.

7. The bearer of every passport issued by the Department of the Secretary of State should sign his passport as soon as he receives it; without such signature either the visa may be refused, or the validity of the passport questioned abroad.

8. Travellers who may have any intention of visiting the Russian Empire, the Turkish Dominions, the Kingdom of Roumania, Persia, Venezuela, Hayti, or Eritrea, at any time in the course of their travels, must first have their passports visés at the nearest Russian, Turkish, Roumanian, Persian, Venezuelan, Haytian, or Italian consulate as the case may be. For the information of travellers proceeding to any of these countries via Great Britain, it may be stated that the addresses in London of these consulates are respectively as follows: The Russian Consulate-General, 17 Great Winchester street, E. C.; the Consulate-General of the Sublime Porte, 4 Broad Street Place, E. C.; the Roumanian Consulate-General, 6 Moorgate Street, E. C.; the Persian Consulate-General, 122 Victoria street, S.W.; the Venezuelan Consulate, Finsbury Pavement House, Finsbury Pavement, E.C.; the Haytian Consulate, 32 Fenchurch street, E.C.; the Italian Consulate-General (for Eritrea) 44 Finsbury Square, E.C. Passports may also be visés at any of the other Consulates of Russia, Turkey, Roumania, Persia, Venezuela, Hayti, or Italy, in the United Kingdom. Travellers about to proceed to any other country need not obtain the visa of the Diplomatic or Consular Agents of such country, except as an additional precaution, which is recommended in the case of passports of an old date.

N.B.—Although travellers are now free to enter most foreign countries without passports, and the rules about passports have generally been relaxed, nevertheless colonial British subjects travelling abroad are recommended not to omit to provide themselves with passports, for even in these countries where they are no longer obligatory, they are found to be convenient as affording a ready means of identification in case of need. For residence in Germany or Switzerland, a passport is necessary.

NOTE.—Naturalized British subjects should bear in mind that their naturalization has no effect within the limits of the foreign state to which they originally belonged, unless they have ceased to be subjects of that state, in the manner prescribed by the laws thereof, or in pursuance of a treaty or convention to that effect.

PASSPORT REQUIREMENTS OF FOREIGN COUNTRIES.

Argentine Republic.—No regulations in force. Persons born in His Majesty's dominions should, if they intend to become resident, even for a short time, obtain from a British consulate in the republic a certificate of nationality for purposes of identification, and to secure exemption from military service.

It is desirable that persons intending to travel in the republic should provide themselves with such certificates, which are issued on personal application, and on production of certificate of birth.

Austria-Hungary.—Persons entering Hungary from Servia or Roumania must be provided with passports. Although passports are not legally necessary in other cases, travellers are advised to carry them. For purposes of residence a passport or other document to prove identity is necessary.

Belgium.—It is desirable for travellers to possess passports. For purposes of residence registration at the police office of the district is required, and a passport is accepted as evidence of identity.

Bolivia.—See Peru.

The cost of such a 'Billet de Séjour' varies from 7 r. 15 c. to 1 r. 29 c. Each 'Billet de Séjour' on first issue or renewal, must be delivered to the local police officer for inscription or visa. For non-renewal of a 'Billet de Séjour' at the time of its expiration a fine is exacted.

Whereas the members of this Conference are of opinion that it is desirable in the interest of the people of Canada and essential to the development of the provinces that an immediate provision be made for an increase of the subsidies granted by the Dominion to the several provinces, and for the award to the provincial governments by Canada of an amount sufficient to meet the costs of the administration of criminal justice, not exceeding twenty cents per head of the population;

Therefore, it is unanimously

Resolved—1. That the subject matter of the resolutions adopted by the Conference of the representatives of the several provinces, held at Quebec in December, 1902, and which were shortly thereafter presented to the Government of the Dominion and which were ratified by the legislatures of the then existing provinces, except that of British Columbia, be now pressed upon the government of the Dominion for immediate and favourable action, under reserve of the right of any province to now submit to such government memoranda in writing concerning any claims it may have to larger sums than those set out in the said resolutions, or to additional consideration or recognition.

Resolved—2. That in case of the government of Canada concurring in the views of the conference, as expressed in the above resolution, a measure should be submitted to the Parliament of Canada at the next session providing for payment of such increased subsidies and allowances as may be determined upon, pending an amendment of the British North America Act, if such amendment should be deemed necessary.

It is also unanimously

Resolved—That subsection C of resolution No. 1 adopted at the Conference held at Quebec in December, 1902, be amended so as to read as follows:—

(C) The population as ascertained by the last decennial census to govern, except as to British Columbia, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta; and as to these four provinces the population to be taken to be that upon which, under the respective statutes in that behalf, the annual payments now made to them respectively by the Dominion are fixed until the annual population is by the census ascertained to be greater; and thereafter the actual population so ascertained to govern.

It is also unanimously

Resolved—That the Honourable Mr. Gouin, Premier of the province of Quebec, and the Honourable Mr. Whitney, Premier of the province of Ontario, be a committee to submit the foregoing resolutions to the government of the Dominion of Canada.

True extracts.

CHARLES LANCTOT,
Secretary of the Interprovincial Conference.

The Hon. Mr. Whitney then submitted a memorandum setting forth the special views of the province of Ontario, which is as follows:—

MEMORANDUM ON BEHALF OF THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO.

On behalf of the province of Ontario, the undersigned desire to submit the following:

The present government of Ontario had no opportunity to take part in the proceedings of the former Conferences. Our predecessors did so, however, and united with the representatives of the other provinces in support of the resolutions which were adopted and which were presented to the Prime Minister of the Dominion of Canada on the 27th day of January, 1903.

While in all probability we would not have initiated the calling of the Conference for the object proposed, yet we must consider the real merits of the questions involved, and, in our opinion, we cannot lose sight entirely of the fact that the then government of Ontario agreed to, and that the legislature ratified, the resolutions above mentioned.

We are strongly in favour of some definite and permanent arrangement regarding the subsidy question; one which will render unnecessary, and indeed impossible, periodical applications for re-arrangement of the subsidies. But while holding these views, we are not able to agree with the suggestion sometimes advanced that the financial terms of the British North America Act were intended to be, or should be, final and unchangeable. Experience shows that the closer we adhere to the exact amounts named as the provincial subsidies nearly forty years ago, the farther we are driven by changing circumstances year by year from the actual financial basis established at confederation.

With reference to this point we have no precedents to consider and discuss; the facts and circumstances surrounding the formation of the American Union and the powers and duties given to the several states by the constitution cannot be applied to our conditions.

With reference to the situation when the terms of the British North America Act were under discussion, we have not been able so far to discover an utterance of any public man at confederation pointing to the conclusion that the then arrangement was to be considered final. The apparent absence also of any suggestion anticipating the possibilities of the future of the provinces and of the Dominion, seems also to show that those most interested did not go further in their consideration of the subject than the situation at the moment. And it would have been indeed strange had they attempted to legislate for posterity and, on behalf of the four provinces then about to unite, assumed to bind for all time the nine provinces now interested and the greater number undoubtedly to be interested in the future. In our opinion these considerations prove that the eminent statesmen and publicists who were dealing with this matter fully realized what we have endeavoured here to indicate.

It is clear that the financial ability of the Dominion to pay subsidies to the provinces was considered with reference to the amounts received from customs and excise, the right to levy which was to be transferred from the provinces to the Dominion. Therefore, it would seem reasonable to say that the same principle should be acted upon to-day, and that the income of the Dominion from these two sources should be taken into account in considering the amount of the subsidies which should be paid to the provinces.

Further, the Federal Parliament has by its action in changing on more than one occasion the financial terms, rendered it impossible to successfully contend to-day, on the ground that the original agreement was final, that the amount of the present subsidies should not be changed.

The Dominion of Canada is not burdened with the responsibilities of an independent nation. The duties of its government are nearly all of a domestic nature. The uses to which its revenues should be applied are of a similar nature, namely, the wants, necessities and reasonable demands of the public, and the people of the Dominion of Canada are the self-same people who constitute the population of the different provinces; a fact which, in our opinion, must be borne in mind in considering this question from an equitable point of view.

The provinces expend annually large sums of money for immigration purposes. They pay their share of the expenses of the Dominion Department of Immigration, while expending liberally for that purpose on their own account. The consequences of this are an increase of the population, an increased cosumption of goods paying tariff duties and an increased revenue for the Dominion of Canada, all of which result from increased provincial expenditure, while their is no increase in provincial revenue.

If the present situation is to remain unchanged, and the increase in population which may reasonably be expected occurs, the expenditures of the provinces will continue to increase while the revenues of the Dominion will also go on increasing. In that case, where can the justification be found for imposing upon the taxpayers who are, as we have said, the people of the provinces, a financial system which will inevitably result in the accumulation of a large revenue in which the people of the provinces who created and contributed it will have no share?

It may be interesting to cite here some of the provisions of the Australian Act of Union. After several years of consideration, the basis of agreement was adopted, and the following are the provisions of sections 87 and 96:

Payments to States. Section 87.

'During a period of ten years after the establishment of the Commonwealth and thereafter until Parliament otherwise provides, of the net revenue of the Commonwealth from duties of customs and excise not more than one-fourth shall be applied annually by the Commonwealth towards its own expenditure.

'The balance shall, in accordance with this constitution, be paid to the several states, or applied towards the payment of interest on the debts of the several states taken over by the Commonwealth.'

Financial assistance to States. Section 96.

'Parliament may grant financial assistance to any state on such terms and conditions as the Parliament thinks fit.'

The following figures show the working of the arrangement:

In 1905 the Commonwealth collected:

Customs and excise	£8,799,500
Deduct cost of collection	256,060
	£8,543,440

Out of which there was paid to the states:

To New South Wales	£2,529,069
Victoria	2,017,378
Queensland	752,532
South Australia	555,692
West Australia	1,027,898
Tasmania	259,099
	£7,141,668

Three points suggest themselves in connection with the Australian arrangement:—

(1) Anything in the nature of a final arrangement, as far as regards a specific amount, was distinctly avoided.

(2) Not only was it avoided, but power to render financial assistance to the states, or any of them, was expressly taken.

(3) The very large proportion of the customs and excise duties to be paid to the states—three-fourths—is significant, and the contrast between the amounts so paid to the states and the amounts to be paid to the provinces, under our Confederation Act, is startling.

The following comparison will show our meaning more clearly:—

1905.	Canada.	Australia.
Customs and excise collected	$54,020,123	£8,799,530 or $42,824,379
Paid to provinces and states	4,516,038	7,141,668 or 34,756,117

We are not anxious to unduly emphasize the fact that the province of Ontario contributes a very large portion indeed of the Dominion revenue, and we recognize that it would be impossible, having regard to the position of some of the smaller provinces, to adjust provincial subsidies on a strictly proportionate basis. Still, we feel that the burden thus far carried, and cheerfully carried, by the province of Ontario entitles her to urge, now that the question of a re-arrangement of the subsidies is being discussed, that her claims should be seriously considered. And we submit that a thorough appreciation of the actual facts relating to the proportion of the Dominion revenue contributed by Ontario, together with the proportion of the railway expenditures in that province, by the Dominion government will make it clear that a settlement which will be satisfactory to the people of Ontario should take them into account.

We urge that in the future no special grant, at any rate, should be made to any one province. We repeat that, in our opinion, an agreement, which will render impossible periodical applications for a re-arrangement of the subsidies, is feasible and should be determined upon. It is possible that such an arrangement might be fixed and positive, and at the same time elastic, working automatically, so to speak, as the Dominion census from time to time would determine.

With reference to the resolution in favour of the assumption by the Dominion of the cost of administering the criminal law, in our opinion, this claim has merits behind it. The provinces have neither act nor part in the enactment or amendment of the criminal law, and it is certainly an anomalous condition of affairs when the provinces, so situated, are called upon to pay for the administration of a law, with the enactment and amendment of which they have nothing to do. The amount expended by Ontario for this purpose in 1869 was $97,424.51 and in 1905 $178,756.51.

In conclusion, we urge that under our system it can never be too late to apply a remedy, where one is called for. We are confident that a thorough consideration of the situation of the provinces under the Confederation Act, of the intention evidenced by the terms of it and by the changes that have been made since its enactment, as well as an appreciation of the origin and amount of the Dominion revenues to-day, and of the fact that they are created by the expenditure of the people of the provinces, will render comparatively easy a settlement on a just and equitable basis; one that will be fair to each province, and one that will be free from the objection that further changes and re-arrangements may be asked for from time to time.

Ottawa, October 10, 1906.

The Hon. Mr. McBride submitted the following memorandum, embodying the claims of British Columbia to special and distinctive treatment:—

MEMORANDUM RE BRITISH COLUMBIA'S CLAIMS FOR SPECIAL CONSIDERATION.

On behalf of the government of British Columbia, I adhere to the general principle of the rights of the provinces to increased subsidies, and, therefore, support the resolution which has been submitted in favour of affirming the resolutions of the Quebec Conference, in so far as they are not inconsistent with or prejudicial to the claims of any particular province for additional recognition with respect to such matters as form the subject of those resolutions.

The government of British Columbia cannot, however, accept them as a final and full settlement of its demands. There are special considerations in the case of British Columbia which involve additional recognition in its behalf. These considerations are set forth in the memorial presented to the Dominion government last year, a copy of which is herewith submitted*, and a resolution affirming the position of the provincial government was unanimously adopted by the legislature of the province of British Columbia. The resolutions of the Conference of Quebec, which, if carried into effect, would increase the subsidies already received by British Columbia, relatively speaking, leave it no better, if as well, off. This is obvious for two reasons:

1st. Owing to the excessive contributions made by British Columbia to the federal treasury, as compared with other provinces, the province would pay an undue proportion of the amount of the increase in subsidies to all the provinces. A parallel in support of this is afforded in the allowance which was made at the time of confederation to certain provinces on account of the greater debt of other provinces, in the payment of which the people of all the provinces had to share. Our case is precisely similar now to that in which those provinces would have been had no such allowance been made.

* See Appendix pages 15 to 39.

2nd. The proposed increase in subsidies being largely based upon population, the special physical conditions which make the cost of government in the province of British Columbia disproportionately great are not provided for.

Briefly, as set forth in the memorial of the government of B. C., already referred to, 'The claims being presented by the other provinces for increased subsidies are similar in character to some of those of British Columbia, with this important distinction, that the reasons which alike give them foundation are greatly accentuated in the case of this province.'

A brief summary of the arguments in our case is herewith submitted:—

For a proper knowledge of the case, it is necessary to consider the conditions which existed at the time British Columbia entered confederation, and the mental attitude in which the terms of union between the province and the Dominion were framed. Public sentiment, as represented in parliament, was prejudicial to more favourable terms being granted. A large section of Canada was utterly opposed to union with British Columbia on the terms under which the construction of a transcontinental railway was rendered obligatory. It was only upon grounds of large public policy of a national character—the rounding out of confederation—that their adoption was justified. It was almost universally conceded that the province, physically handicapped as it was, would not pay its way in confederation, and it was strongly contended that the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway—the price asked by British Columbia—was too great a sacrifice on the part of the Dominion, and that the railway when built would prove unremunerative. Consequently the financial terms conceded to British Columbia were the least favourable possible.

A similar attitude towards British Columbia was maintained as long subsequently as 1884, when the Settlement Act was passed, whereby the outstanding differences between the provinces and the Dominion were finally adjusted. By the terms of the Settlement Act, the province, tired of delays and wearied with fruitless negotiations, agreed to transfer 3,500,000 acres of the best land in the Peace River district in lieu of expenditures on the part of the Dominion, amounting in all to about $1,100,000. These lands, worth now at the lowest valuation $17,500,000, were parted with to secure a railway from Esquimalt to Nanaimo, costing less than $3,000,000, which, under the Carnarvon terms, the Dominion government has pledged itself to build without cost to the province. The value of such concession was not then foreseen. The treaty of 1871, as revised in 1884, was made in misapprehension of the possibilities of British Columbia and the development to accrue from the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The subsequent course of events was shown that British Columbia has not only paid its way in confederation, but has contributed in thirty-five years nearly $19,000,000 to the federal treasury in excess of what it has received therefrom; that the Canadian Pacific Railway has been instrumental more than any other factor in building up Canada, with benefits vastly greater to eastern Canada than to British Columbia; and that the Settlement Act gave a realizable asset to the Dominion nearly twenty times greater than the expenditure which it involved.

The government of British Columbia submits as incontrovertible that as the original and amended term of union having been based upon assumptions which have proved groundless, and as that the very opposite of what was anticipated has transpired, it is incumbent, in the light of developments which have actually taken place, upon the Dominion, morally and constitutionally, to now substitute fairer terms for those made perforce in anticipation of what did not happen.

This contention is strictly in line with what is promised in the resolution of the Quebec Conference of 1902, to the effect that at the time of the passing of the B.N.A. Act 'it was impossible to foresee the development of the Dominion,' and to provide in an unalterable and fixed way for the requirements of the various local governments for all time to come, except that the conditions are so peculiar and exceptional in the case of British Columbia as to demand exceptional consideration in the revision of financial terms now deemed necessary.

In the memorial presented by the government of British Columbia to the Dominion authorities, and in various letters and memoranda, the historical aspect of the case has been reviewed, and the reasons for special consideration given in extenso. In addition to the foregoing, it has been pointed out that there are certain conditions and physical disabilities, permanent in character, which accentuate the position of British Columbia considered in relation to the other provinces, and that abnormally increase the cost of administration in that province as compared with the average conditions of the rest of the Dominion, entailing as well disadvantages of commercial, industrial and political character. These are:—

1. The cost of administration, owing to the physical character of the country.

2. The distance from the commercial, industrial and administrative centres of eastern Canada.

3. The non-industrial character of the province, as compared with eastern Canada, whereby a large percentage of goods are imported and consumed, increasing the contributions to the federal treasury in the way of taxes in a ratio of three to one.

4. The disadvantages of the province in relation to the market for its special products.

Under the first head, it is pointed out and supported by tables filed in the official records of all the provinces, that the physical conditions referred to seriously affect the cost of government under every head.

The following table, covering a period of thirty years of all the provinces, will sufficiently illustrate these contentions:—

Provinces.	Average Population for Thirty Years.	Total Expenditure for Thirty Years.	Average per head per year.
		$	$ cts.
British Columbia	90,634	32,243,068	11 86
Manitoba	123,801	16,025,974	4 31
Prince Edward Island	104,062	9,179,906	2 94
Quebec	1,421,994	104,027,881	2 44
New Brunswick	314,802	20,381,060	2 16
Ontario	1,961,260	105,798,513	1 79
Nova Scotia	434,585	21,525,863	1 65
	4,451,138	$309,182,264	$2 32

British Columbia is a country, roundly speaking, 900 miles in length and 500 miles in width, including an area of 381,000 square miles, extremely mountainous in character and settled in widely detached valleys with a sparse population. This involves an expenditure for government very much greater than in provinces which are compact and do not present the same peculiar conditions with which that province is confronted.

2. The geographical position of the province, though very important in one sense, is very disadvantageous in relation to the Dominion as a whole. We sell very little to eastern Canada on account of the nature of our products, and we buy very largely there for the same reason. Interprovincial trade was the material object in confederation. The province, therefore having four per cent of the population pays eight per cent of the price of confederation, and gets in return one per cent of the trade (see table, page 8, memorial, prepared by Mr. George Johnston late Dominion Statistician).

3. The non-industrial character of the province accounts for the enormous contributions it has made to the federal treasury in proportion to the amount received in return. An elaborate statement of the account appears in the memorial referred to, which has been brought up to date, showing an excess of contributions over receipts amounting to nearly $19,000,000. This is not submitted as an exact mathematical solution of financial relations, but is substantially accurate, and represents approximately the actual condition of affairs in respect to receipts and contributions. There is the further consideration that the population, which accrues directly to the benefit of the Dominion, accrues in the ratio of about three to one, as compared with the average benefits from population, in other sections of Canada.

4. The geographical position of the Dominion also handicaps it in relation to the products which it sells. This is true, for the most part, of foreign exports of lumber, of fish and of minerals, and of many other things that it is hoped to produce in the future, such as manufactures of iron and paper. For the most part, British Columbia sells in the markets of the world in competition with the world. It cannot sell in eastern Canada in competition with eastern manufactures owing to distance, and is thus handicapped in what it buys and what it sells.

Its geographical position has still further the effect of increasing the cost of consumption by imposts in the way of freight on goods which are imported from a supply centre of Canada and elsewhere.

In addition to the natural disadvantages under which the province has laboured, may fairly be cited the political disadvantages of a limited representation in parliament and the long distance from the seat of government. Without reflection upon one administration at Ottawa more than another, the province, by reason of these handicaps, has not in the past received that consideration for its various wants that is extended to the people of eastern Canada, who have large representation and easy access to the capital.

Comparing the terms conceded to British Columbia and to the new provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, it is found in effect that when these provinces are in receipt of the total allowance to which they will be ultimately entitled per annum, the amount, in round numbers, will be $2,250,000, while the total of British Columbia's allowance, when it has reached its maximum, will be less than $500,000. It is not contended that the new provinces have received too much, but that British Columbia has received far too little. Alberta and Saskatchewan contain large, compact, arable areas presenting no physical difficulties or obstacles to development. While it may be said that in their case the lands and minerals belonged to the Dominion, if we take the case of British Columbia, with its public domain in its own right, the average of its receipts for the past thirty years on account of its natural resources has only been $235,000 per annum, from which must be deducted the cost of administration, not less, at the present time, than $100,000 per annum. It is submitted further that the readjustment of the subsidies every two and a half years, according to the increase of population ascertained by census-taking, in our estimation, is another important advantage which the new provinces have over British Columbia. They obtain almost immediately in increased subsidy the benefit of increased population, while British Columbia, in which the increase of population is also very rapid, has to wait ten years for readjustment. There is therefore only one of two conclusions to be drawn from a comparison of the terms in the two cases; either the new provinces have been too generously endowed by the Dominion—which is not alleged—or British Columbia has received very inadequate consideration of its requirements.

The Government of British Columbia, in view of all the considerations which have been advanced in support of the claims of that province, reaffirms its position in regard to the desirability of a complete investigation by a competent tribunal of the merits of the provincial contention. It is therefore asked that a commission be appointed consisting of three persons of eminent repute, one to be named by the government of the Dominion of Canada, one by the Government of British Columbia, and the third by the Honourable the Secretary of State for the Colonies. It is asked that the reply of the Dominion Government be made definite and final within three months from the present time.

RICHARD McBRIDE,
Premier.

Ottawa, October 9, 1906.

The Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced that the resolutions of the Interprovincial Conference would be taken into consideration by himself and his colleagues.

The Joint Conference adjourned at twelve o'clock noon, until to-morrow at 11 a.m.

The question of the claim of the province of British Columbia for special consideration was discussed.

The Joint Conference adjourned at 1 p.m., until to-morrow at 11 a.m.

CHARLES LANCTOT,
JOSEPH POPE,
Joint Secretaries.

CONFERENCE CHAMBER,
OTTAWA, FRIDAY, October 12, 1906.

The Chairman of the Joint Conference took the chair at 11 o'clock, when the members were convened.

The Hon. Mr. Gouin submitted a resolution of the Interprovincial Conference touching the practice of the Dominion government in deducting claims which the Dominion may have against any province from the subsidy due to such province.

At the request of the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, this resolution was withdrawn for reconsideration by the Interprovincial Conference.

The Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier then addressed the Joint Conference to the following effect:—

'I have given careful consideration to the memorial of British Columbia's government, and particularly to the request that a commission be appointed for the purpose of inquiring into the financial relations between the Dominion and the province. I have been unable to reach the conclusion that the appointment of such a commission would be the best way of dealing with a question of this kind. I fear that such a course would not lead to the harmonious settlement of the grants to provinces which all should desire to bring about. However, I regard the matter at present more as one for the opinion of the Conference than for the judgment of the Dominion government. You have assembled for the purpose of considering the sums which should properly be paid by the Dominion to the provinces in the way of subsidy and allowance for the maintenance of government. The British Columbia proposal comes entirely within the chief purpose of this Conference. If this Conference, after hearing Mr. McBride's arguments in support of his contention, reach the conclusion that an arbitration should take place, through a commission, for the purpose of dealing with the claim of British Columbia, that would present the matter to the Dominion government in a new light, and, while I am not prepared to express any final opinion, I can say at once that such a recommendation from the Conference would have great weight with us, and we should feel bound to give it further consideration. While I give you this expression of my own views and of the views of my colleagues who are here with me, I shall, if you will permit me, offer a suggestion. I think there is a disposition on the part of the Conference to recognize that the conditions in British Columbia, owing to the vastness of her territory, to its mountainous character, and the sparseness of her population, create exceptional difficulties which should be taken into consideration in the adjustment of the distribution of the grants in aid of provincial governments. I am myself disposed to admit that such is the case. I would strongly advise that Mr. McBride avail himself of the good disposition which is manifested in the Conference, and at once approach the question of what allowance, in addition to that already contemplated, should be made to meet British Columbia's difficulties. It is a question which, after all, can better be settled here than anywhere else. I feel assured that the Conference will be willing to deal with the matter in a spirit of fairness to British Columbia. I propose, therefore, that we shall leave you to discuss the question frankly with one another, and come to you again when probably you will have reached some satisfactory agreement.'

After some discussion the Joint Conference adjourned at 12 o'clock noon, to meet to-morrow at 11 a.m.

CHARLES LANCTOT,
JOSEPH POPE,
Joint Secretaries.

CONFERENCE CHAMBER, OTTAWA, SATURDAY, October 13, 1906.

The Chairman of the Joint Conference took the chair at 12.30 p.m., when all the members were convened with the exception of the Hon. Messrs. Lemieux and McBride.

The Chairman submitted a resolution of the Interprovincial Conference which is as follows:—

Extract from the deliberations of a sitting of the Conference of the representatives of the several provinces of Canada, held at Ottawa, on the 12th of October, 1906.

It was resolved:—

That in the opinion of the Conference it is unadvisable that the claim, in the way of subsidies, of any province be referred to arbitration.

(True extract.)

CHARLES LANCTOT,
Secretary of the Interprovincial Conference.

The Chairman submitted a resolution of the Interprovincial Conference on the subject of the claims of British Columbia for special consideration, which is as follows:—

Extract from the deliberations of a sitting of the Conference of the representatives of the several provinces of Canada, held at Ottawa, on the 13th day of October, 1906.

It was resolved:—

That in view of the large area, geographical position and very exceptional physical features of the province of British Columbia, it is the opinion of this Conference that the said province should receive a reasonable additional allowance for the purposes of civil government, in excess of the provisions made in the Quebec Resolutions of 1902, and that such additional allowance should be to the extent of one hundred thousand dollars annually for ten years.

(True extract.)

CHARLES LANCTOT,
Secretary of the Interprovincial Conference.

The Chairman informed the Conference that Mr. McBride declined to assent to the terms of this resolution, and declared that he could take no further part in the proceedings of the Interprovincial Conference, and that after making this statement he had withdrawn.

At this stage, the Hon. Mr. McBride entered the Conference Chamber and took his seat at the Joint Conference.

At 1.10 p.m. the Joint Conference took recess.

The Joint Conference reconvened at 2.30 p.m., when the Chairman took the chair, all the members being present with the exception of the Hon. Messrs. Lemieux, McBride, and Drysdale.

The Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced that the Dominion Government had come to the conclusion to agree to the resolutions embodying the views of the Interprovincial Conference submitted by the Hon. Mr. Gouin on the 10th October, with the exception of that portion of the first resolution proposing an increased subsidy towards the cost of the administration of criminal justice, and also to the proposal that a bill should be introduced into the Parliament of Canada providing for the payment of the increased subsidies and allowances pending the necessary amendment to the British North America Act, neither of which he was prepared to entertain. These resolutions, with the above recited exceptions, are substantially the same as those of the Quebec Conference of 1887.

The Prime Minister added that his government desired to impress upon the Conference the fact that these resolutions of 1887 seemed to have been drawn and considered with great care, and they are of opinion that the terms agreed to at that time ought not to be departed from. These resolutions provide as follows:—

That this Conference is of opinion that a basis for a final and unalterable settlement of the amounts to be yearly paid by the Dominion to the several provinces for their local purposes and the support of their governments and legislatures, may be found in the proposal following, that is to say:—

A. Instead of the amounts now paid, the sums hereafter payable yearly by Canada to the several provinces for the support of their governments and legislatures, to be according to population, and as follows:—

(a) Where the population is under 150,000	$100,000
(b) Where the population is 150,000 but does not exceed 200,000	150,000
(c) Where the population is 200,000 but does not exceed 400,000	180,000
(d) Where the population is 400,000 but does not exceed 800,000	190,000
(e) Where the population is 800,000 but does not exceed 1,500,000	220,000
(f) Where the population exceeds 1,500,000	240,000

B. Instead of an annual grant per head of population now allowed, the annual payment hereafter to be at the same rate of eighty cents per head, but on the population of each province, as ascertained from time to time by the last decennial census, until such population exceeds 2,500,000, and at the rate of sixty cents per head for so much of said population as may exceed 2,500,000.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier further observed that his government had considered this question up to this moment in the hope that the present Interprovincial Conference would be unanimous. He said that while there is unanimity with respect to the principle of increased subsidies and also in regard to that portion of the resolution of the Interprovincial Conference submitted by Mr. Gouin on October 10, to which the government has agreed, there was a special claim from British Columbia touching which some difference as regards the amount exists. Sir Wilfrid Laurier added that he wished to report to his colleagues on that point before giving a final assent.

The question of the discrimination against Dominion charters by provincial authorities was adverted to by the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who expressed the view that there should be no such discrimination.

The Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier referred to the previous discussion on the provincial tax on commercial travellers.

The Chairman of the Conference announced that this question had been considered by the Interprovincial Conference, and that the various premiers had come to the conclusion to propose to their legislatures the repeal of this tax.

Some discussion was had on the subject of the fisheries, in the course of which the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier dwelt on the inconvenience arising from the divided jurisdiction which at present exists.

The Joint Conference adjourned at 4.45 p.m.

JOSEPH POPE,
Joint Secretaries.

APPENDIX.

THE CASE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA FOR BETTER TERMS.

MEMORANDUM of the Government of British Columbia in the matter of Readjustment of Financial relations.

His Excellency at the recent opening of parliament having intimated that provincial autonomy would be granted to the Northwest Territories, and in view of the possible readjustment at the same time of the financial relations between the provinces and the Dominion, the Government of British Columbia desire to place on record and reiterate the claims of this province for distinct and separate relief.

The relief sought is from an insufficiency of revenue arising out of causes constant in operation and peculiar to British Columbia.

These causes render it impossible to provide for the responsibilities of local administration imposed under the terms of union, without creating intolerable burdens of taxation or exhausting the resources of provincial credit.

Is was intended by the framers of the B. N. A. Act, as will be shown, that the amount of revenue left to the provinces after confederation should be adequate for the performance of all local services; and, therefore, the government submit as a basis of their claims, that it is constitutionally incumbent upon the Dominion Authorities to increase the allowance wherever and whenever it can be shown that such circumstances do not exist.

To review the steps that have been taken towards obtaining a recognition of the claims of the province, early in 1901 a delegation from the Government of British Columbia interviewed the Dominion Authorities upon a number of matters as between, or affecting the relations of, the two governments, one of which was the subject-matter of this memorandum.

Prior to that time, upon several occasions in the federal parliament, attention was called to the large contributions from the province to the federal treasury in the way of customs and inland revenues. By comparisons with the rest of Canada, these were shown to be in the ratio of three to one. Attention had also been called to these facts in the local legislature on several occasions as forming a just claim for increased subventions by the Dominion to railway enterprises in the province.

In the memorandum submitted by the delegation of 1901 was a tabulated statement showing the contributions to the federal treasury from, and the expenditures by the Dominion in, the province of British Columbia since 1871. This statement has been completed by the addition of the figures for the years 1901-2-3, and appears in the appendices hereto. From this statement it will be seen that during 32 years the province has contributed to the revenues of Canada the sum $49,397,238, and has received in expenditures in return the sum of $32,454,382, and that the excess of contributions over expenditures is about $17,000,000.

The cost of no portion of the construction of the C. P. R., which, like the canal system of Eastern Canada, is national in its character, was included in this statement; but, as pointed out, there is included the cost of other services which are national and would not be chargeable to any of the Maritime Provinces in an acounting of a similar nature.

That British Columbia has much more than borne its rightful share of the expenses of governing Canada is demonstrated by the fact that while on its part it exhibits this surplus of $17,000,000, the net debt of the Dominion has risen from $80,000,000 in 1872 to over $261,500,000 in 1903, or an increase of about $181,500,000. Not only, however, has British Columbia contributed thus unduly to the federal treasury, but it has become liable for its share of the general liability of the Dominion, which share according to population is, roughly speaking, $9,000,000.

All this is in addition to the disproportionate burden of administering a province, the physicial conditions of which render it many times more expensive than other provinces.

Attention is called to a statement in the appendices of what the results in a financial way would have been had the contributions of the whole of Canada to the federal treasury been in the same proportion as those from British Columbia; and, conversely, what the results of British Columbia's contributions would have been had they been in the same proportion as from the rest of Canada.

The position created as the result of our financial relations was stated in the memorandum of 1901, as follows :—

'A province has a certain population and contributes a certain revenue. What it pays as imposts to the treasury is, per capita, its impost or burden of government. Computations on that basis in various ways show, as a general and almost invariable result, that for a whole period of years the burden has been two and three-quarter times that of the rest of Canada, taken as a whole.'

Attention was also called to the duty paid indirectly by people of the province on goods brought from Eastern Canada upon which duty had been collected at eastern points of entry and added to the price at the western end. From data acquired on the subject by the provincial government in 1897 the duty thus indirectly paid then amounted to about $300,000 per annum. The total amount paid since 1871 is estimated to have been $6,000,000.

Although the delegation of 1901 did not make a special feature of the arguments arising out of the physicial disabilities of the province, it was kept in mind, as the following shows :—

'In this connection, too, we must also consider the very much greater cost per capita involved in the development and government of a province like British Columbia, where the physical features are so rugged and distances so great, and communication so difficult and expensive, and the population is comparatively sparse.'

Reference was also made to the increased burden upon the consumer in British Columbia by reason of the large freight bills on goods coming from eastern centres ; and also to the disadvantages arising out of the extreme westerly position of British Columbia in respect to finding a profitable market for what is produced therein.

In January of the year 1903, a second delegation went to Ottawa to confer with the representatives of other provinces on the subject of financial relations generally, and, in particular, to lay before the Dominion authorities the claims of British Columbia for increased subsidies, apart from any general settlement made in behalf of all the provinces.

At the conference which took place special stress was laid upon several aspects of the question, which differentiated the claims of British Columbia from those of other provinces and demanded special consideration (See page 9 of the Appendices).

It may be urged that the province of British Columbia is bound by the terms of the memorandum adopted by the Quebec Interprovincial Conference, inasmuch as it was signed by the members of the British Columbia Delegation. By reference, however, to this memorandum it will be found that it embodies a letter to the premier of Quebec, convener of the conference, from the premier of British Columbia, presenting the special claims of the province and expressly stipulating that concurrence in the joint memorial was subject to the rights of the province to special consideration on account of exceptional conditions. Adherence was given to the principles involved in the resolutions of the conference setting forth the reasons for readjustment as applicable in a greater or less degree to all the provinces; but it was held that in the case of British Columbia not only was the force of these reasons greatly intensified, but that there were considerations forming additional reasons which did not at all apply to the other provinces and for which additional allowance should be made.

It was stated by the delegation of 1903 that—

'The position we take is not that the Dominion government has violated the terms of Union, or that we are entitled to compensation for lack of fulfilment in any substantial respect, as the performance of a legal contract could be construed; but we do contend that in the development of the constitution, in its actual operation, from the date of confederation in 1871, a state of affairs has grown up in British Columbia and in the Dominion, as the result of the union between the two, that has established a moral right and a sound constitutional claim on our part for increased recognition—a state of affairs that was not anticipated by either party to the federal compact.'

The historical and constitutional arguments in support of the claims were summarised as follows:—

'That there is an absolute precedent in the Nova Scotia settlement of 1869, inasmuch as, without any charge of violation of the terms of union by the Dominion, the claims of Nova Scotia were recognized on the grounds that the sources of revenue left to the province were not sufficient to meet local requirements, and on the grounds generally that the peculiar geographical position and exceptional conditions of that province demanded a revision of the financial arrangements. It was admitted in parliament that there were substantial grounds for the claims made, that there was an injustice, and that it was incumbent upon the Dominion government to redress grievances where they existed, not only on moral grounds, but to ensure the success of Confederation:

'That, after careful investigation and reference to the best and highest authorities, it was competent for the parliament to adjust financial relations, where necessary, without a change in the British North America Act:

'That the principle once established and, as a matter of fact, put in force on several subsequent occasions in respect to other provinces, it is not only competent but a matter of right and constitutional necessity on the part of the Dominion to apply that principle whenever and wherever the circumstances justify it:

'That it is recognized that the Act of Union is a contract and a treaty binding for all time to come, but that it is not a contract like the laws of the Medes and Persians, invariable, but subject to modification as circumstances demand, as the resolutions of the premiers presented to you yesterday premise. At the time of the British North America Act, or the British Columbia Terms of Union were passed, it was impossible for either party to foresee the results of union, or to fix in an absolutely definite way and unalterably the financial relations, so as to provide equitably for all time to come for the requirements of both classes of governments; and that it was the evident intention of the framers that adequate provision should be made for both:

'That, with reference to British Columbia, although it is not contended that it was forced into confederation as it is claimed Nova Scotia was, yet the circumstances and conditions of the province were such that there was but little alternative left to her in the matter of terms:

'That the terms were not the terms the people of British Columbia asked for and believed were necessary for the adequate administration of local affairs and the development of the country:

'That, as shown by the debates which took place both in the local house and in the Houses of Parliament at Ottawa, in neither case were the framers of the terms able to accurately or even approximately foresee what the results would be, and that in a great measure for both it was a leap in the dark:

'That the people of British Columbia did, from a local knowledge of their own province, appreciate the necessity of and stipulate for a much larger provision for the financial requirements of the province than was conceded by the Dominion:

'That the Dominion government did not agree to the terms of British Columbia for the reason that they feared and believed that this province would remain a drag on the Dominion, and it is well known that they could only secure a ratification of the treaty in the House by granting the least favourable conditions possible. The government at Ottawa, in the matter of British Columbia, acted solely on the policy of creating a nation extending from ocean to ocean, and in doing so were under the conviction that they were assuming burdens quite out of proportion to the value of the province as an asset—in other words, sacrificing material interests to a large extent in the interests of patriotic sentiment—that of "rounding out Confederation." The whole debate confirms that view of it absolutely:

'That the reasons which dictated the policy of the government at that time have been shown by the developments which have taken place in British Columbia, and the financial results which followed, to have been entirely and absolutely erroneous and unfounded:

'And that, therefore, although the framers of that treaty were without doubt honest, high-minded, and, from the knowledge they possessed then, justified in that course, their reasons having proved unfounded the government of to-day is entitled in equity to recognize the consequences of those errors and compensate for the inordinate benefits the Dominion has received, and also increase the allowance for the requirements of the public service in a province demanding so extraordinary a rate of expenditure for its settlement and development.'

The delegation then proceeded to present a statement of facts bearing upon the peculiar conditions and position of the province, under the following heads:—

'1. The cost of administration, owing to the physical character of the country.

'2. The distance from the commercial, industrial and administrative centres of Eastern Canada.

'3. The non-industrial character of the province, as compared with Eastern Canada, whereby a larger percentage of goods are imported and consumed, increasing the contributions to the federal treasury, in the way of taxes, in a ratio of three to one.

'4. The disadvantage of the province in relation to the markets for its special products.'

The statement of the case, as above, will be found in full in the appendices to this memorandum at page 9.

In the summer of 1903 a third delegation from British Columbia interviewed Sir Wilfrid Laurier and other members of the Dominion Cabinet at Ottawa, and strongly urged their consideration of the facts that had been submitted by previous delegations.

The principal object of this delegation, however, was to impress upon the Dominion authorities a proposal for the reference of the claims of the province to a joint high commission, consisting of three members to be named, one by the Dminion Government, one by the Government of British Columbia, and one by the Imperial Colonial Secretary.

Having presented the foregoing resume of former negotiations, it is here proper to observe that the claims being presented by the other provinces for increased subsidies are similar in character to some of those of British Columbia, with this important distinction, that the reasons which alike give them foundation are greatly accentuated in the case of this province.

With regard to the reasons for financial readjustment contained in the resolutions adopted by the Quebec Interprovincial Conference of 1902, it is submitted that it is a fair presentment to say that they are, mainly, as follows:—

(1) That new conditions have arisen since confederation which were unforeseen or not provided against at that time.

(2) That the financial resources of the several provinces, as determined by statute, are no longer sufficient to meet the expenditure necessary to adequately administer the affairs of the provinces and efficiently promote their further development.

(3) That the growth of population, by reason of development, the result of efforts on the part of both the Dominion and Provincial governments, increases the financial responsibilities of the provinces without a corresponding increase of revenue, as a consequence, and without provision for a corresponding increase of subsidy to meet it.

(4) That it was the evident intention of the framers of the Terms of Union to make adequate financial provision for the requirements of the Dominion and Provincial governments for all time to come.

It is assumed that it will be for these reasons, and for these reasons alone, that a general readjustment of financial relations will, if effected, be brought about.

In this connection, the remarks of Hon. S. N. Parent and of Hon. G. W. Ross are noteworthy, and a few of the more pertinent of their observations are given in the appendices at page 12.

Taking the foregoing considerations as applicable, in common, to the claims of British Columbia, they have, as intimated, exceptional force, the evidence of which exists in two main facts:

(a) The charges against the province through Customs and Excise revenues, to which may properly be added heavy freight bills, arising out of long distance from centres of supply in the east, are several times greater than in the other provinces, and thus to that extent lessen the ability to maintain the cost of local administration.

(b) The responsiblities of population involved in the increase of population in British Columbia, as will be shewn, are several times greater than elsewhere in Canada by reason of a combination of disadvantageous conditions, mainly physical in their nature.

The contentions of the Quebec Conference that increased subsidies to the provinces to permit of their still further development would bring increased revenues to the Dominion as a compensation, apply with peculiar force to the particular case of British Columbia. This province has, admittedly, great sources of wealth. Obviously, however, owing to the physical obstacles to overcome, to make these sources available by development, an expenditure very much larger than in other provinces is required; but, as British Columbia has in the past contributed, and in the future must continue to contribute, in an excessive ratio to the federal treasury, as compared with the rest of Canada, so the Dominion for relatively increased subsidies to this province will reap a corresponding increase in revenues to the treasury and in benefits to trade and industry.

The conditions, permanent in character, which accentuate the position of British Columbia, considered in relation to the other provinces, have previously been enumerated.

To arrive at a definite basis upon which to submit a claim in a stated sum as compensation on account of such conditions and physical disabilities, which increase abnormally the cost of provincial administration compared with the average conditions of the rest of the Dominion, a full and detailed examination has been made covering the expenditures of all the provinces for various services since 1871.

The first of these conditions, which refers to the mountainous surface, is one which clearly differentiates the case of this province from that of every other province. The extreme limit of the arable land is about one-twenty-fourth of the entire surface or at the very outside, 10,000,000 acres, much of which cannot be classed other than pasture land, out of 240,000,000 acres. The habitable area is mainly restricted to the arable portions. This lies more or less evenly distributed in widely separated narrow valleys immured by precipitous mountain sides. This is a condition which finds no parallel in Canada amoung the other provinces, the distinct effect of which upon the cost of provincial administration may, by an examination of the statistics referred to, be ascertained in some degree of definiteness. It is a condition which neither settlement nor development can alter in the slightest, and on account of which settlements are small in area, isolated in position, and difficult of access. As a consequence, the province pays per head of its population for roads, streets and bridges over twenty times as much in the average as the same services cost in the other provinces for the five years, 1898-1902, as the following table shows :—

ANNUAL EXPENDITURE PER HEAD FOR ROADS, STREETS AND BRIDGES.

To the cost per mile and not to the mileage or the sparse population is due this abnormal expenditure for road construction in British Columbia. Its six thousand miles of wagon roads, which are wholly inadequate to the needs of the districts they serve and far from a state of completion, based on the standard of Eastern Canada, have cost on an average over $2,000 per mile. For purposes of comparison, it will be fair to take not the numerous roads in the older settled sections of eastern Canada, built for the main part by statute labour, but the expensive mining and colonization roads in the new and northern part of Ontario in which the conditions more nearly approach those in British Columbia. For 18 years, 1876-1885, in Algoma, Muskoka and other parts the average cost of construction of new roads was $294 per mile for over 2,000 miles (vide Sessional Papers Ontario, 1885, Return No. 24). Thus the ratio of cost is 7 to 1. This disparity is as enduring as the mountains which give rise to it. It may be argued, however, that the addition of municipal expenditure to provincial expenditure would vary the results to the prejudice of British Columbia. There is difficulty in obtaining municipal statistics for all the Provinces. In Ontario and British Columbia, however, there are complete statistics which are available for comparison. It is pointed out, too, that when Ontario went into Confederation it was largely municipalised, and that all previous liabilities for public works were assumed by Canada as a whole. Adding Ontario and British Columbia's municipal expenditure per head for 1901 (as a convenient year), for roads, streets and bridges to the foregoing provincial average per head for five years, we have :—

	British Columbia.	Ontario.
Provincial expenditure for roads per head per year for five years	$2 91	$0 06 3/10
Municipal expenditure for roads per head for 1901	1 58	1 63
Total	$4 49	$1 69 3/10

Showing an annual sum of $2.79 7/10 per head, or a sum of $466,425 to place British Columbia on an equal footing with Ontario with respect to the item of provincial and municipal expenditure for this service alone.

British Columbia's per capita expenditure for civil government, arising out of the services of the government required in widely scattered communities, is over nine times that of the average of the other provinces, as the following table shows:—

ANNUAL EXPENDITURE PER HEAD FOR CIVIL GOVERNMENT.

Another service that is peculiarly affected by the conditions referred to is that of the administration of justice, which is four times that of the average per capita cost in the other provinces as compared by the subjoined table:—

ANNUAL EXPENDITURE PER HEAD FOR ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE.

For hospitals and charities the per capita expenditure is five times the average of the other provinces, as the following table indicates:—

New Brunswick	0 02	0 02	0 02	0 02	0 02½	0 02

Taking together these four services, it is found that the cost to British Columbia per head of the population is over nine times that of the average of all the other provinces, as the following table shows:—

Taking the total per capita expenditure for all the provinces for all services for the five years, 1898-1902, it will be found from the table below that British Columbia is nearly five times that of the average of all the other provinces, and that the difference between British Columbia's annual per capita expenditure of $12.61 and that of all the provinces (including British Columbia) of $2.66 is the yearly sum of $9.95 per head of the population, or requiring the yearly sum of $1,706,222 to place it on all fours with the rest of the provinces.

Lastly, from the subjoined table of the total expenditures for all services of all the provinces for the 30 years, 1873-1902, it will be found that British Columbia's per capita expenditure is over five times the average of all the provinces, and that the excess of British Columbia's per capita annual expenditure over that of the average of all the provinces is $9.54, or very little less than the excess for the five-year period, showing that the excess was constant throughout the whole period.

The striking inequality in expenditures disclosed by a comparison between British Columbia and the other provinces, and the similarity, amounting almost to uniformity, shown to exist among the latter, point unmistakeably to some cause permanently operating in this province to account for the difference in results.

It is impossible, having in view all the facts, to escape the conclusion that this permanent cause is the vast area of mountainous surface in British Columbia, which enters as a controlling factor into every branch of provincial administration.

The second cause which operates disadvantageously towards British Columbia is its position in relation to other provinces and other countries, which adds, as additional imposts, long-distance freights to the first cost of articles imported for use and for local manufactures; and also minimises to an unusual degree the advantages to be derived from inter-provincial trade, which was the commercial object of Confederation.

In regard to freights, the matter was dealt with in the report of the first delegation of 1903, as follows:—

'In eastern Canada—in what we may call old Canada—the cost to the consumer, conveyed from points of entry like Montreal, Toronto, Halifax and other cities, varies, from the nearest points to the most distant, from 12½ cents per 100 lbs. to 50 cents. It may, in exceptional cases, reach 75 cents. The official through rate from eastern distributing or terminal points to western terminals varies, according to the classification of goods, from $2 to $3.25 per 100 lbs. What are known as commodity rates, to meet competition from New York to San Francisco and other coast points, are, however, lower than that. In addition to that, while the consumer in the east only pays one local rate, the people of the interior not only pay the through rate to the coast, but the local rate back again, which, in some cases, equals the through rate.'

In regard to inter-provincial trade, it has been set out by Mr. George Johnson, Statistician for the Dominion, in this way:—

Trade of the two central provinces with the other provinces	$150,000,000
" " with each other	115,000,000
" three maritime provinces with each other	30,000,000
" western provinces and territories with each other	20,000,000
Total	$315,000,000

Or say, $60 per head.

The products of British Columbia, which are exported to other provinces, though extremely limited, consist chiefly of lumber, shingles, fish and fruit, and of goods to the Yukon. From the latest available statistics these are estimated in value at $3,000,000, or 1 per cent of the whole inter-provincial trade of Canada. Thus, this province having 3 per cent of the whole population, pays 8 per cent of the price of confederation, and gets in return 1 per cent of its trade benefits.

The third head under which our disadvantages in confederation are compared with the other provinces is the non-industrial character of the population, which arises out of conditions unfavourable to manufacturing as developed in Eastern Canada. The special products of British Columbia—mineral, fish and lumber,—are not the raw materials which enter into the manufacture of dutiable goods most largely consumed in the province. This condition accounts for the larger percentage of goods imported, which increases the contributions to the federal treasury so disproportionately. An analysis of the census returns of 1901 show to what unusual extent the population of British Columbia is employed in mining, lumbering and fishing, and relatively to what limited degree it is engaged in agricultural pursuits and manufactory, with corresponding results in the nature of their respective products.

And, lastly, as a consequence of the limited market for special products of British Columbia in the east from which its people buy so extensively, a market has to be found for these in Great Britain and foreign lands, where they come in competition with the cheap labour products of the world. Adopting the language of a former memorial: 'We have had to pay long distance freights on both what we bought and sold: we have been obliged to reverse the order of successful business principles and buy in the dearest market and sell in the cheapest.' Under this handicap have our present industries been created, and in regard to others, such as the manufacture of iron and steel and of pulp and paper, the natural conditions for which are so favourable, and whose development is nationally so important, the securing of profitable markets so far from the centres of population is by far the most serious of the problems to solve in their undertaking.

The foregoing are the grounds, mainly, upon which the Government of British Columbia appeal for special consideration to the Dominion authorities, in connection with the proposed re-adjustment of financial relations as between the provinces and the Dominion.

They indicate in themselves the nature of the relief sought as compensation for a combination of disadvantageous conditions, incident to physical characteristics and geographical situation.

The first render it impossible for the provincial administration to carry on its ordinary expenditures necessary under the Terms of Union and provide for the further adequate development of an immense area still largely unpeopled. In an experience of thirty-three years the province has but once in its history produced a surplus of revenue over expenditure, and has in the same time accumulated deficits amounting to about $10,000,000, during which its financial requirements have been insufficiently met even by the aid of loans.

The second has resulted in the excessive contribution of $17,000,000 to the Federal treasury for which no benefits have been received, and placed the province at a serious disadvantages in respect to its share of inter-provincial trade, foreign commerce and the development of native industries.

The government in 1903, in asking for a commission of inquiry of the character suggested, deemed it to be an eminently fair proposition, inasmuch as it would put the burden of proof on the province itself, place the consideration of the questions involved beyond the sphere of political influence, and guarantee the fullest and most impartial investigation.

In the event of a settlement, satisfactory to both, not being possible by a friendly conference between the governments, the Government of British Columbia still adhere to the proposal for a commission as an alternative. It is submitted that in no other way can so complete and unbiased an examination of those claims be made as by reference to an independent tribunal. If by such reference the contentions of the province be sustained, the duty of the Dominion government will be obvious: if the report be unfavourable to those contentions, then the subject will be forever removed from the arena of controversy.

No. 1.

(Note to foregoing Tables of Revenue and Expenditures.)

It will be observed that by the method adopted in extracting the contributions by the province to the Dominion, and the expenditures by the Dominion in and on account of the province, from the Auditor General's Report, there has been no effort made to distinguish expenditures charged to 'capital' and 'income' respectively, which, in some instances, would materially reduce the sum to be charged to the province in a single year, as the account would take cognizance of interest only. To adopt a strictly accountant system, although materially reducing the amount chargeable to the province each year, would greatly involve the process of arriving at a final result.

It will also be observed that the statement is more than fair to the Dominion, inasmuch as the expenditure includes such large items as quarantine, fishery protective service, maintenance and construction of lighthouses, defences of Esquimalt, and militia, which, strictly speaking, are matters of national benefit, and are in no sense local or provincial, any more than similar services on the Atlantic coast would in a similar statement be charged to Nova Scotia or New Brunswick. They are, however, incidentally of local benefit and are included.

In addition to that the cost of the Indians is included in 'expenditure,' although the province has no moral or legal responsibility in that connection. It is to be borne in mind, too, that the province gave to the Dominion for the use of the Indians over 525,000 acres, which being in every instance the best land available is worth at the lowest estimate $10 an acre at the present time, for reserves. Of course, in the case of the total dying out of the Indians the reserves will revert to the province.

To absolutely adjust such an account equitably would require the services of a commission, as the proportionate cost of government and a great many other things would have to be taken into consideration: but in a general way the results are given in the tabulated statements hereto attached.

No. 2.

(From Report of Dunsmuir Delegation, 1901.)

Since 1872, the revenue contributed by British Columbia to the Dominion up to July 1, 1901, will have amounted to, roundly, $42,000,000. Taking the average of the population for the three census periods, 1871 to 1881; 1881 to 1891; and 1891 to 1901, at 81,000 and that of all Canada at 4,500,000 for the same periods—had the whole of the people of the latter contributed in the same ratio per capita, the revenue would have amounted to $2,333,250,000 instead of $886,360,000.

In other words, 1/55 of the population has contributed about 1/20 of the revenue of Canada in 30 years.

Conversely, if the contribution of British Columbia, for that period, had been on the same basis as the rest of Canada, it would have amounted to only $15,957,000.

Taking the population at 5,250,000 and 125,000, respectively, the per capita contribution of all Canada in 1899 was $8.93 per head, and that of British Columbia $25.67 per head.

If the revenue from British Columbia had been in the same ratio as the rest of Canada, it would have amounted to only $1,116,250, instead of $3,194,808.

Taking the customs and excise alone, which amounted in 1899 to $34,958,000 for the Dominion, and $2,627,500 for the province, on the same basis of population, the per capita contributions are $6.65 and $21.02. Had the whole population of Canada contributed in the same ratio as British Columbia, the taxation derivable from inland revenue and customs would have been $110,250,000, instead of $34,958,000.

Conversely, if British Columbia had contributed in the same ratio as the rest of the Dominion, the revenue from British Columbia from these sources would have been only $831,250.

In 1899, our provincial contributions to the Dominion treasury, from all sources, were $3,208,788; and our share of all expenditure by the Dominion was $1,334,618.

If the whole of Canada had contributed in the same ratio, the revenue of Canada for that year would have been $134,767,000, instead of $46,741,250.

No. 3.

COST OF ADMINISTRATION.

(From Report of Prior Delegation, 1903.)

In regard to No. 1, I have only to exhibit this map to illustrate what I mean by the physical character of the country increasing the cost of administration. The whole interior of the province of British Columbia is more or less mountainous, and the valleys or agricultural parts suitable for settlement are few and far apart. The settlements that have taken place through mining development are also widely distributed and found often in very inaccessible places. In fact, without going into a long description of conditions with which everybody who has been in the country is familiar, the cost of building roads to connect these various settlements, sometimes over mountain tops, or along their steep sides, through rock, &c., is very expensive; and in many instances the expensive means of communication which it is necessary to provide only serve a comparatively few people, from whom there is anything but adequate revenue to be derived.

It is necessary, too, to provide educational facilities, supply officials in various capacities, build public buildings; in short, supply all the facilities that would be necessary in a thickly settled community. This is not only true of the interior, but also of the coast, where the thickness of the forest, the denseness of undergrowth and great size of the trees make it still more expensive to clear and grade roadways.

As you will see by this map, we have only begun to touch the rim of the province, and yet the government has, according to a statement prepared for me by the government engineer, who says it is well within the mark, built 6,000 miles of road, at a cost of $12,000,000, and 5,000 miles of trails, at a cost of $1,000,000, or $13,000,000 in all. Now, to give the rest of the province still undeveloped a similar system of communication, will cost I do not know how many times more. Few of these roads can be considered as finished roads at that. They are, as a rule, nine or ten feet wide, simply graded roughly, and constantly being repaired and improved. There are also numerous bridges and culverts to be constructed, which are very expensive indeed. I am submitting the particulars of a few roads that have been built of late years, to give you an idea of the cost in different districts, as follows:—

MAIN WAGGON ROADS.

	Length.	Width.	Cost per Mile.
In East Kootenay	20	9 feet.	$1,000
Revelstoke	1½	10 "	3,350
Slocan Riding	12½	9 "	1,600
Yale (West)	4	10 to 12 "	4,544
" (East)	5⅞	12 to 14 "	1,700
Richmond (Coast)	4	16 to 22 "	2,000
Rossland	6¾	10 "	1,185
New Vancouver (Coast)	1·8	12 to 16 "	2,220
	9	10 "	1,510

All of these are still under construction.

The physical configuration of the country, therefore, greatly increases the cost of government. Population can never be concentrated or compact, and, as a consequence, the cost of the individual factor of population is proportionately very much greater than in the eastern provinces. The revenues, as a consequence, to be derived must be very much less in proportion to the area, or the individual must be taxed very much higher. One or both of these results invariably follow.

I have made a comparison of the cost of the various services in the different provinces under different heads, as nearly as they could be grouped from what appears in the public accounts, and the result is as follows, which is substantially correct, though subject to correction in some details:—

	B. C.	Man.	Ont.	Que.	N. B.	N. S.	P. E. I.
Population (in round figures)	180,000	256,000	2,185,000	1,650,000	330,000	460,000	103,250
Administration of justice	$ 1 20	$0 52	$0 20	$0 33	$0 055	$0 16	$0 16
Civil government	0 95	....	0 13	0 18	0·095	....	....
Legislation	0 25	0 18	0·065	0 09	0 11	0 11	0 07
Public institutions	0 60	....	0 38	0 31	0 24	0 36	0 30
Public works	2 41	0 90	0 12	0·065	0 60	0 34	0 70
Education (1891)	5 56	5 01	1 91	1 91	1 92	1 81	1 44
Total cost of administration	11 62	4 00	1 85	2 70	2 40	2 94	3 00

There is still to take in the cost of municipal government. As it happens, there are only two provinces which compile municipal statistics, Ontario and British Columbia, but for our purposes Ontario may be taken as fairly representative of the others. The cost of municipal government, according to latest published returns of the Ontario Department of Statistics, is $6 per head of the population. We have now the basis of a perfect comparison between British Columbia for the year 1901, in respect to the cost per head for governmental purposes, and it is as follows:—

	Ontario.	British Columbia.
Provincial	$ 1 85	$12 60
Municipal	6 00	1 75
Customs (average for Dominion)	5 28	16 00
Excise	2 00	(Included in Customs.)
	$15 13	$30 35

There are two important distinctions to make in the case of British Columbia, as compared with Ontario, and to some extent with the other provinces, and they are that, owing to the municipalisation in the east, a very large burden of responsibility is thrown upon the municipalities which in British Columbia is borne by the province; and that, owing to the character of the population in British Columbia, which includes 45,000 Chinese, Japanese and Indians, who contribute to the general revenues in a very insignificant degree, the whole of the taxation falls on a population equivalent to about 50,000 adult white male population, or an amount of over $100 per head for all purposes per annum. The above comparison is, therefore, greatly increased as against British Columbia, and exceeds, all round, the ratio of three to one. This is a condition of affairs arising out of our peculiar physical characteristics and geographical situation for which we claim special consideration.

To illustrate more clearly the effect of the physical configuration in the cost of administration, I have here a table showing the expenditures and receipts in three of our large outlying districts, covering a period of five years. The expenditures include the cost of salaries of officials in the districts, of education, hospitals and charities, works and buildings, roads, streets and bridges, surveys and miscellaneous, but not of the administration of justice, of legislation, the interest on public debt, the general expenses of civil government, and many other large items of expenditure which cannot be apportioned to districts. The revenues include all the revenues which arise out of the respective districts. The totals are:—

FOR FIVE YEARS, 1896-7 TO 1900-1.

	Expenditures.	Revenues.
Cassiar	$311,908 94	$323,038 37
Cariboo	340,007 85	307,832 04
Yale	727,323 83	683,480 50
	$1,371,240 62	$1,314,350 91

From the results shown in the above five years' experience, it will be seen how far short the ordinary revenue is of the ordinary expenditure in such large districts. The revenue includes all sources of money supply, while the expenditure only includes the appropriations within the districts.

As another illustration of how the financial situation works out in new districts. Last year there was a proposal to settle one hundred families in the fertile valley of the Bulkley river, south of Hazelton, on the Skeena river. The members of the colony, as inducements, asked that the government should assist them in taking in their families and effects, to give them 320 acres of land free for each family, to build a road from Hazelton to the settlement, 75 miles in length, and build schools, &c. Upon making an estimate, the initial cost for the first five years was as follows:—

Road from Hazelton, 75 miles	$75,000 00
Two school-houses	5,000 00
One government building	1,200 00
Cross-roads	5,000 00
		$86,200 00

In addition to this, to be taken into account, were :—

The salary of two teachers	$ 1,800,00
The salary of one government official	1,200 00
Or a total in five years of		15,000 00
Grand total outlay in five years		$101,200 00

The greatest possible revenue that could have been reaped in return would have been :—

Poll tax, at $3 per head per annum on 300 male adults	$	900 00
Land tax, on a valuation of the government price of land for purchase, at $5 per acre		1,200 00
		2,100 00
Or, in five years		10,500 00
At the end of five years, provided the land was pre-empted on the usual terms, the government would receive at $1 per acre		32,000 00
Or a total of		42,500 00
As against an expenditure of over		100,000 00

Of course, in five years there would have been others added to the population, and in all probability there would have been miscellaneous receipts under mining licenses, &c., but there would have been increased expenditure as well. This shows, in a practical way, what it costs to open up new districts in British Columbia. In other words, unless mining development accompanies settlement to increase the revenue, the ordinary settler, to use a homely expression, costs more than he comes to.

On the other hand, one hundred families settled there would have contributed at least $2,500 per annum to the Dominion treasury, without the government practically assuming any responsibility in connection with them.

These are the practical problems which the local government have to face in British Columbia, and is one reason why we claim the local sources of revenue are not sufficient to meet the demands on the treasury as is, in fact, shown by the receipts and expenditures since confederation. I think I have shown you very clearly that we cannot administer the affairs of the province on a basis similar to that of the other provinces, or anything like a similar allowance for local expenditures.

No. 4.

Effect of increased Population and Development.

The Hon. Mr. Parent, in presenting his case, remarked :

'The development of the province has occasioned new expenditure.'

'The larger part of this increase is due to various causes, which, notwithstanding all the care given to the management of public affairs, it has been impossible to control.'

'This increase in the population is inevitably a source of expenditure to the provincial government, and, although it is incumbent upon it to neglect no means of attracting to this province and keeping therein a large population, it is unfortunately true that the accomplishment of this duty occasions a constant diminution of its pecuniary resources.

'This increase in the poulation is directly responsible for the additional cost for the administration of justice, the maintenance of the educational system, the support of the prisons and asylums and the assistance given to educational and charitable institutions, &c.'

* * * * * * * * *

'On the other hand, the revenue of the federal government from $13,687,928, which it was in 1868, increased to $51,029.994 in 1900. From the figures above given, it will be seen that the customs and excise duties form a large portion of the revenues paid into the treasury of Canada in consequence of their surrender by the provinces.'

* * * * * * * * *

'In the majority of the provinces it has become impossible by taxation to cover the increased expenditure, and it appears to us that the only method of meeting all the public requirements is to have the views above expressed accepted by the federal government.'

* * * * * * * * *

'With the additional sums so placed at the disposal of the province, we could encourage education, agriculture and colonization, aid in the development of our natural resources and nascent industries, furnish, by practical instruction, the generations to come with the means of engaging in economic struggles of the future, and supervise with a more jealous care the observance of the laws which ensure the security of persons and property.

'This expenditure would directly benefit the Government of Canada, which would be more than repaid the sums handed over to us by additional customs and excise duties paid into the public treasury by increased population.'

* * * * * * * * *

Hon. G. W. Ross, Premier of Ontario, took practically the same view. In his memorandum submitted he pointed out:

'It is true that there is no compact that the subsidies should increase according to the revenues of the central government, although such a basis would be eminently fair, inasmuch as the moneys (customs and excise) from which the subsidy is paid by way of refund for maintenance of local governments, is collected from the people of the provinces, and, indeed, in some respects such a basis for the payment of subsidies would be fairer than payment on the basis of poulation, as being a refund in proportion to the amount collected.

'The present basis ignores the fact that while the increase of population lightens the burdens of the Dominion inasmuch as it multiplies the contributors to the revenue from customs and excise, the increase of population adds to the burdens of the provinces without any corresponding contribution towards their maintenance. For instance, the provinces, through the central government, are taxed for maintaining the Department of Emigration. This department justifies its existence by increasing population from foreign parts, and the government is recouped for this expenditure through the customs and excise departments. The province, however, that has to provide for the education of these emigrants, for the administration of justice so far as they are concerned, and for the maintenance of their indigent or insane, has no means of recouping itself because of this increased expenditure imposed on it through the Dominion except at its own expense. Surely this circumstance must have been overlooked or the subsidies would not have been rigidly based on a fixed population, as has been the case.'

Hon. G. W. Ross goes on to point out that the very expenditure made by the Dominion government in building railways, canals, &c., though it increases the population of Canada and the revenue of the Dominion, 'the provinces, so far as their administration of the responsibilities devolving upon them by the Act, receive no benefit whatever, but rather lose from this increase, as the charges by the Dominion government, which the people of the province have to meet in order to carry on these large undertakings, increase the difficulties of the provincial governments in meeting the charges which this increased population imposes upon them under the constitution.

'The provinces are, in this way, subjected to a double charge: (1) To find the means, through increased customs and excise charges, for public works undertaken by the Dominion; and (2) to provide for the maintenance of the population which naturally follows in their wake.'

BETTER TERMS ALLOWED TO PROVINCES.

Nova Scotia in 1868.

New Brunswick in 1873 was allowed $150,000 per annum as compensation for loss of export duty on logs under the Treaty of Washington in 1871. Under the Terms of Union, New Brunswick was permitted to impose this duty, which had been in force since 1842. It has always been regarded, and really was, a very liberal settlement. It was arranged by Sir Leonard Tilley, one of the New Brunswick representatives on the Dominion government.

There was a general readjustment of terms in 1873, as the result of agitation in Ontario and Quebec against the payment of interest on 10½ millions, by which amount the actual debt of the old province of Canada exceeded its allowed debt of $62,500,000 under the Union Act. The following sums were allowed to be assumed by the general government as liabilities on behalf of the provinces:—

Provincial debts at time of confederation	$ 77,500,000
Debts subsequently assumed or allowed:—
Nova Scotia (better terms)	1,186,756
Old province of Canada	10,506,089
Ontario	2,848,289
Quebec	2,549,214
Nova Scotia	2,343,059
New Brunswick	1,897,720
Manitoba	3,775,606
British Columbia	2,029,392
Prince Edward Island	4,884,023
Total	$109,430,148

Prince Edward Island in 1901 was allowed $35,000 per annum for failure to provide regular communication, winter and summer, between the island and mainland, as per terms of union. Communication at times is irregular, owing to hummocky ice in straits, which can never be overcome, except by tunnelling.

Nova Scotia in 1885, in which the government of Canada took over the extension line railway constructed by Nova Scotia and paid therefor $1,324,042, purchased certain wharves, and extended the line to Sydney as a work of general benefit. This line was afterwards amalgamated with the Intercolonial system; and in 1901 when a sum of $671,836 was placed in the estimates in connection with claims of that province (see Hansard Debates, page 5892).

New Brunswick in 1901 also received the sum of $280,692 (see Hansard Debates, page 5941).

APPENDICES

APPENDIX No. 1.

CHAPTER 16.

An Act respecting the Civil Service of Canada.

SHORT TITLE.

1. This Act may be cited as the Civil Service Act. R.S., c. 17, s. 1. Short title.

INTERPRETATION.

2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,— Definitions.

(a) 'head of the department' means the minister of the Crown for the time being presiding over the department;

(b) 'deputy,' 'deputy head,' or 'deputy head of the department,' means the deputy of the minister of the Crown presiding over the department, and the Clerk of the Privy Council; and includes also the Auditor General, in all cases in which such meaning is not inconsistent with his powers and duties under the Consolidated Revenue and Audit Act;

(c) 'Board' means the examiners appointed for the purposes of this Act. R.S., c. 17, s. 2; 3 E. VII., c. 9, s. 1.

CONSTITUTION.

3. The Civil Service for the purposes of this Act includes and consists of all classes of officers, clerks and employees, elsewhere than in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta and in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory, in or under the several departments of the Executive Government of Canada and in the office of the Auditor General, included in schedules A and B to this Act, appointed by the Governor in Council or other competent authority before the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, or thereafter appointed or employed in the manner provided by the Civil Service Act for the time being in force; and also includes,— Of whom the Civil Service shall consist.

(a) such officers, clerks or employees in the lower grades as are determined by order in council; and,

(b) such officers, clerks and employees in the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta and in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon Territory, holding positions which if held in other parts of Canada would bring them under the provisions of this Act, as the Governor in Council brings under the provisions hereof.

Exception.

2. The Civil Service shall not, however, include nor shall this Act apply to any of the officers or employees to whom by the provisions of the Post Office Act that Act instead of the Civil Service Act is intended to apply. R.S., c. 17, s. 3; sch. B.; 2 E. VII., c. 28, s. 1.

Two divisions.

4. The service shall be divided into two divisions, namely:—

Inside division.

(a) The first or inside departmental division which shall comprise officers, clerks and employees of those classes mentioned in schedule A, employed on the several departmental staffs at Ottawa, and in the office of the Auditor General; and,

Outside division.

(b) The second or outside departmental division which shall comprise officers, clerks, and employees of those classes mentioned in schedule B, and the other officers, clerks and employees included in the Civil Service who are employed otherwise than on the departmental staffs at Ottawa. R.S., c. 17, s. 4.

Regulations.

5. The Governor in Council may, from time to time, make general rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, respecting the appointments and promotions of the officers, clerks and employees in the Civil Service and all other matters pertaining thereto. R.S., c. 17, s. 5.

Governor in Council to determine number of officers, etc.

6. The Governor in Council shall, from time to time, determine the number of officers, clerks of the several classes and grades, messengers and other employees who are required for the working of the several departments in each division of the Civil Service, but the collective amount of the salaries of each department shall, in no case, exceed that provided for by vote of Parliament for that purpose.

If the actual number exceeds that allowed.

2. If the number of officers, clerks, and employees then attached to any department in either division thereof is greater than the number allowed to the department, as herein provided, the Governor in Council shall name the persons to fill the several offices; and the remainder shall be supernumerary clerks, ineligible for increase of salary, of that class respectively in which they rank, and shall so remain until promoted in the manner herein provided or until severed from the service. R.S., c. 17, s. 6.

BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

7. Three examiners shall, from time to time, be appointed by the Governor in Council, who, for the purposes of this Act, shall be known as the Board; and they shall examine all candidates for admission to the Civil Service, and give certificates of qualification to such persons as are found qualified, according to such regulations as are authorized by the Governor in Council for the guidance of the Board.

5. In any case of doubt the Governor in Council may, by general or special regulations, determine to what persons the provisions of this Act do or do not apply, and the conditions on which, and the manner in which, they shall apply in any case or class of cases. R.S., c. 18, s. 14.

PART I.

ELIGIBILITY.

Who eligible.

6. The Governor in Council may grant a superannuation allowance not exceeding the allowance hereinafter authorized to any person who has served in an established capacity in the Civil Service for ten years or upwards, and who has attained the age of sixty years or become incapacitated by bodily infirmity from properly performing his duties. R.S., c. 18, s. 3.

Service before Confederation to be counted.

7. Service in an established capacity in any of the departments of the executive government or offices of the legislature of any of the provinces, now included in the Dominion of Canada, before such province became a portion thereof, by any person who thereafter entered the Civil Service, shall be reckoned in computing his period of service for the purposes of this Act. R.S., c. 18, s. 13.

Breaks in service not to be counted.

8. If the service has not been continuous, the period or periods during which such service has been interrupted shall not be counted. R.S., c. 18, s. 3.

Preliminary inquiry by Treasury Board.

9. The superannuation of every civil servant shall be preceded by an inquiry by the Treasury Board,—

(a) whether the person it is proposed to superannuate is eligible within the meaning of this Act; and,

(b) whether the superannuation of such person will result in benefit to the service, and is therefore in the public interest; or,

(c) whether superannuation has become necessary in consequence of the mental or physical infirmity of such person. R.S., c. 18, s. 5.

Report of Board.

10. No civil servant shall be superannuated unless the Treasury Board reports that he is eligible within the meaning of this Act and that such superannuation will be in the public interest. R.S., c. 18, s. 5.

ALLOWANCES AND GRATUITIES.

Rates of allowances.

11. The superannuation allowance hereinbefore mentioned shall be calculated upon the average yearly salary, during the last three years of service, of the person to whom such allowance is to be made, and shall not exceed, if such person has served for ten years, but less than eleven years, an annual allowance of ten-fiftieths of such average salary, and, if he has served for eleven years but less than twelve years, an annual allowance of eleven-fiftieths thereof, and in like manner a further addition of one-fiftieth of such average salary for each additional year of service up to thirty-five years, when an annual allowance of thirty-five-fiftieths may be granted, but no addition shall be made for any service beyond thirty-five years.

Fraction of one-half or more equal to one year.

2. In computing the number of years of service for the purposes of this section, if the actual period of service includes a fraction of a year, the fraction, if equal to or greater than one-half, shall be counted as a full year's service. R.S., c. 18, s. 3; 3 E. VII., c. 10, s. 1.

Ten years may be added.

12. The Governor in Council may, in the case of any person who entered the Civil Service after the age of thirty years, as being possessed of some peculiar professional or other qualifications or attainments required for the office to which he was appointed, and not ordinarily to be acquired in the public service, add to the actual number of years of service of such person, such further number of years not exceeding ten, as is considered equitable, for reasons stated in the order in council made in the case, and such additional number of years shall be taken as part of the term of service on which the superannuation allowance of such person shall be computed. R.S., c. 18, s. 4.

Diminished allowance if service unsatisfactory.

13. If the head of a department reports with respect to any person employed in his department, and about to be superannuated, from any cause other than that of ill-health or age, that the service of such person has not been satisfactory, the Governor in Council may, as to him seems fit, grant such person a superannuation allowance less than that to which he would have otherwise been entitled. R.S., c. 18, s. 9.

Gratuity when yearly allowance not earned.

14. If any person to whom this Act applies is constrained, from any infirmity of mind or body, to quit the Civil Service before the period at which a superannuation allowance might be granted him, the Governor in Council may allow him a gratuity not exceeding one month's pay for each year of his service; and if any such person is so constrained to quit the service before such period, by reason of severe bodily injury, received without his own fault, in the discharge of his public duty, the Governor in Council may allow him a gratuity not exceeding three months' pay for every two years' service, or a superannuation allowance not exceeding one-fifth of his average salary during the then last three years. R.S., c. 18, s. 10.

Compensation if retirement compulsory.

15. If any person to whom this Act applies is removed from office in consequence of the abolition of his office for the purpose of improving the organization of the department to which he belongs, or is removed or retired from office to promote efficiency or economy in the Civil Service, the Governor in Council may grant him such gratuity or superannuation allowance as will fairly compensate him for his loss of office, not exceeding such as he would have been entitled to if he had retired in consequence of permanent infirmity of body or mind, after adding ten years to his actual term of service. R.S., c. 18, s. 11.

Limited.

Payment of allowances.

16. The allowances and gratuities granted under this Act shall, as to all persons appointed to the Civil Service previous to the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, be payable out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada, and as to all persons appointed to the Civil Service on or after the last mentioned date, the same shall be payable out of the Civil Service Superannuation Fund, number two, hereinafter defined. R.S., c. 18, s. 15; 56 V., c. 12, s. 4.

DEDUCTIONS.

17. A deduction towards making good the superannuation allowances hereinbefore mentioned shall be made from the salary of every person in the Civil Service appointed previous to the first day of April, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, at the rate of two per centum per annum on such salary, if it is six hundred dollars or upwards, and of one and one-quarter per centum per annum thereon if it is less than six hundred dollars, and the sum so deducted shall form part of the Consolidated Revenue Fund of Canada. per centum per annum thereon if it is less than six hundred dollars, and such deduction shall be carried to the credit of a fund called the Civil Service Superannuation Fund, number two, to which shall be added by the Government annually such a sum as, upon an estimate or valuation thereof based upon the H. M. Mortality Table of the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain and a rate of interest of six per centum per annum, may be sufficient to make the amount thereof equal to the value of the prospective annuities payable therefrom. 56 V., c. 12, s. 3.

19. The deductions mentioned in the last two preceding sections shall be made only during the first thirty-five years of service. R.S., c. 18, s. 6. Deductions during 35 years of service only.

COMPULSORY RETIREMENT.

20. Retirement shall be compulsory on every person to whom the superannuation allowance hereinbefore mentioned is offered, and such offer shall not be considered as implying any censure upon the person to whom it is made; nor shall any person be considered as having any absolute right to such allowance, but it shall be granted only in consideration of good and faithful service during the time upon which it is calculated. R.S., c. 18, s. 8. When. No absolute right to allowance.

21. Nothing herein contained shall be understood as impairing or affecting the right of the Governor in Council to dismiss or remove any person from the Civil Service. R.S., c. 18, s. 8. Right of dismissal unimpaired.

DISMISSAL.

22. The Governor in Council may, on the recommendation of the Treasury Board, pay to any person heretofore or hereafter dismissed from the public service of Canada, who at the time of such dismissal was contributing to any civil service superannuation fund under the provisions of this Act, or who has contributed to any such fund or funds during thirty-five years of service, the whole, or such portion as the Governor in Council deems expedient of the amount so contributed by such person to such fund. Deductions may be repaid.

2. The Governor in Council may also, on the recommendation of the Treasury Board, in addition, pay to such person interest to the date of such dismissal on the contributions so repaid, or any portion thereof, at such rate of interest, not exceeding five per centum per annum, and calculated in such manner, as the Governor in Council deems advisable. 60-61 V., c. 15, ss. 1 and 2. With interest.

In discretion of Governor in Council.

23. Nothing in the last preceding section contained shall be construed to confer upon any person any right to demand or enforce the repayment of any amount contributed by him to any such fund, or any interest thereon, and all payments made under the last preceding section shall be wholly in the discretion of the Governor in Council. 60-61 V., c. 15, s. 3.

FORFEITURE OF ALLOWANCE.

In what cases.

24. Every person who receives a superannuation allowance, and is under the age of sixty years, and is not disabled by bodily or mental infirmity, may be called upon to fill, in any part of Canada, any public office or situation for which his previous services render him eligible, and which is not lower in rank or emolument than that from which he retired; and, if he refuses or neglects so to do, he shall forfeit his said allowance. R.S., c. 18, s. 12.

Addition.

2. The amount reserved in the case of each person together with any sum transferred to his credit as in the preceding subsection mentioned, shall be entered in a separate account, and interest at the rate of four per centum per annum, shall on the first days of January and July in each year, be computed on all sums to the credit of the Retirement Fund, whether principal or interest, and such interest shall be credited to the said sums and form part thereof. 61 V., c. 17, ss. 4 and 6. [No. 31—1907.]

REPORT

BOARD OF CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINERS

FOR THE

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1906.

The undersigned, constituting the Board of Civil Service Examiners for the Dominion of Canada, have the honour to report that during the year ended December 31, 1906, they held, or caused to be held, the Promotion and Entrance Examinations prescribed by 'The Civil Service Act.'

Accompanying this report will be found the following appendices, viz.:—

1. Civil Service Act.
2. Regulations governing the Board.
3. Statements giving particulars of attendance at promotion and entrance examinations.
4. Copy of papers set at the promotion examination.
5. Copy of papers set at the preliminary examination.
6. Copy of papers set at the qualifying examination.
7. Copy of papers set for optional subjects.
8. List of candidates who were successful in passing the preliminary or lower grade examination.
9. List of candidates who were successful in passing the qualifying or higher grade examination.
10. List of candidates who succeeded in options, specifying the subject or subjects in which they passed.
11. List of graduates of Canadian universities who have exhibited their diplomas to the Board, and who in consequence are qualified for employment in the public service without examination.

General Promotion Examination.

The general promotion examination for the employees of the Civil Service, the Excise Branch of the Department of Inland Revenue excepted for the reasons hereinafter set forth, was this year held on Tuesday, the 15th of May, and the following day, at Hamilton, Winnipeg and Ottawa. Candidates presented themselves from the following departments, viz.: Auditor General, Finance Department, Public Works, Agriculture, Printing and Stationery, Interior, Railways and Canals, Indian Affairs, Justice, Trade and Commerce, Customs, Militia and Defence, and Post Office.

The conditions as regards the promotion examination remain substantially as they were, when in its last report the Board considered it necessary to refer in detail to the numerous anomalies which are to be found in the regulations governing such examinations. The importance of having a uniform set of regulations in that regard is each year becoming more manifest, and the Board hopes that during the ensuing year steps will be taken to remedy the defects to which attention has been called in its previous reports.

As there appears to be some doubt as to percentages necessary to qualify for the different grades of clerkships, it may not be amiss to give the particulars herein, which are as follows:—

From Third-Class to Junior Second, a subject percentage of 30 and an aggregate percentage of 50.

From Junior Second to Second, a subject percentage of 35 and an aggregate percentage of 55.

From Second to First, a subject percentage of 40 and an aggregate percentage of 60.

From First-Class to Chief, a subject percentage of 50 and an aggregate percentage of 70.

Another point, which has arisen during the past year, and with regard to which there exists considerable doubt, and in some quarters a very wide divergence of opinion, is whether temporary clerks are eligible for admission to the promotion examination. In the opinion of the Board, the promotion examination is open only to those appointed to the service and not to those 'employed' as is the case with temporary clerks, and it would assist the Board very materially if deputy heads would make a note of this fact in order that, in furnishing the lists of candidates entitled to present themselves for this examination, the names of temporary employees are not included.

Still another point which has come up during the year, and upon which the Board has been asked for an answer, is whether graduates of universities are eligible for junior second-class clerkships without passing the promotion examination. There can be no doubt that, under section 72 of the Civil Service Act, graduates of the Royal Military College and of Canadian universities are eligible for appointment as junior second-class clerks without examination, but if first appointed to the third-class the provisions of the Act relating to promotion would then apply, and such official would be required to pass the promotion examination.

In consequence of the change made in the fiscal year, it becomes necessary, in order that promotions to take effect from the 1st of April may not be delayed, owing to officials not having passed the required examination, to change the time for holding the regular promotion examination. The Civil Service Act (section 23) provides that this examination shall be held during the month of May, and for the reason above stated the Board recommends that the time be changed to the month of February, and that such amendment to the Act as may be necessary in this connection be made at the present session of Parliament.

While on the subject of amendments to the Civil Service Act, the Board is reminded that another change is necessary in order to remove any doubt that may exist as to the legality of special examinations as now held. The Civil Service Act provides that, in the case of the regular promotion examination, one month's previous notice must be given in the Canada Gazette, and there is nothing in the Act to show that the same formality is not necessary in the case of special examinations. It is, of course, absurd to suppose, where an examination is ordered for a particular person to which no one except the official named in the order in council can be admitted, that one month's notice should be given of such examination, and as this view has prevailed, no such notice has been given in past cases. As, however, the Act is not at all clear that such is not necessary, the Board would respectfully recommend that a definite provision making such notice unnecessary should be inserted in the Act.

The Board is called upon to report only one change which was made in the regulations during the past year, and that was in the curriculum of subjects for candidates from the Finance Department, who are now examined in two subjects only, arithmetic and 'Duties of Office,' instead of five as was previously necessary.

The attendance at this examination, and the results thereof will be found in tabulated form in later pages.

Special Promotion Examinations.

In addition to the regular May promotion examination, five special examinations were held under authority of orders in council, passed in pursuance of section 22, chapter 9, 3 Edward VII. In four cases, the examination was confined to the single subject 'Duties of Offices,' and in the other case, the subjects prescribed were Orthography and 'Duties of Office.' The attention of the government is respectfully invited to the observations on this subject contained in the last annual report of the Board, in the hope that some action may be taken at an early date which will bring about a more satisfactory system of examinations than at present exists.

Excise Promotion Examination.

As has been explained in previous reports of the Board, the general promotion examination held in the month of May is invariably adjourned for the purpose of permitting the examination to be resumed, at a later period in the year, to meet the case of the employees of the Excise Branch of the Department of Inland Revenue who are unable to absent themselves from their duties during the month of May. Accordingly, an excise promotion examination may be held annually outside the month of May, but it seldom happens that the requirements of the department render it necessary to hold an examination oftener than every other year.

This year the examination was held on the 23rd of October and four following days at Montreal, Hamilton, Winnipeg, Vancouver and St. John, the Board being represented by one of its members at Montreal, and at Hamilton by one of its sub-examiners. At the three remaining centres, owing to the fact that the attendance was confined to one or two candidates, the examination was conducted by the District Inspectors of Inland Revenue. The papers at this examination being of an altogether special and technical character, it is customary to have associated with the presiding examiner at centres where the Board is represented by sub-examiners, an officer of the Department of Inland Revenue, in order that the candidates may be afforded such assistance as is necessary to enable them to thoroughly comprehend the problems submitted to them.

The answer papers, without the names of the candidates, are submitted to experts of the Department of Inland Revenue, who report the results to the Board, by whom in turn, they are communicated to the Secretary of State, with the name prefixed.

The questions treated by the candidates at the Excise Promotion Examination are not printed in the report of the Board for the reason that, being necessarily very much alike each year, their publication would enable intending candidates to prepare answers in advance, or have them prepared by more competent men. This consideration has commended itself to the Board, and in consequence, the papers in question are not now printed in its annual reports.

The attendance at and the result of the Excise Promotion Examination will be found in a subjoined table.

Entrance Examinations.

The undersigned have the honour to report that personally on the usual days in November last at Montreal and Toronto, and by sub-examiners at Charlottetown, Halifax, St. John, Quebec, Kingston, Hamilton, London, Port Arthur, Windsor, Sault Ste. Marie, Winnipeg, Regina, Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Victoria and Nelson, the preliminary and qualifying examinations prescribed by the statute for entrance into the public service were held.

It having been represented to the Board by the Deputy Postmaster General that an unusually large number of railway mail clerks were required to present themselves for the Civil Service Entrance Examinations this year, but that it was impossible, without detriment to the postal service, to allow all those desiring to do so to present themselves unless the entrance examinations were held on two different dates during the month of November. In order, therefore, to afford an equal oportunity to all such employees to present themselves for such examination, it was decided, in addition to the dates fixed for the other examination, namely, Tuesday, 15th November, that the entrance examinations should be held at Winnipeg and at all points west thereof on Tuesday, the 6th November. It was decided also, in order to provide against a possible lack of accommodation, owing to the two Houses of Parliament not being available, as in former years, to hold the examinations this year at the city of Ottawa, on the date specified, namely, the 6th of November.

The Board wishes respectfully to call attention to the fact that, under the Civil Service Act, as recently revised, what is called the 'Qualifying Examination' is now held to apply to third-class clerkships only. This is, beyond doubt, as it should be; the Board is strongly of opinion that the 'Qualifying Examination' so called, being really of a very elementary character, should never have enabled a candidate to qualify for any class higher than the lowest grade of clerkship.

But the Board does not wish to rest upon this mere approval of 'a new departure' in itself eminently desirable. The members of the Board are in accord in suggesting that a higher test of examination be created and applied to those who desire to qualify for junior second-class clerkships. The present alternative title of the 'Qualifying Examination,' namely, 'Higher Grade Examination,' might, with propriety, be given to the proposed test of fitness. Nor would the creation of this 'Higher Grade Examination' complicate matters unduly if it be borne in mind that the subjects of examination need not be different from those already prescribed for the 'Qualifying Examination'; the standard of percentages required, both in every subject and in the whole group of subjects should, however, of course, be considerably higher. The Board respectfully suggests that amendments necessary in this regard to the Civil Service Act should be made at the present session of Parliament.

The Deputy Postmaster General having called the attention of the Board to the difficulties which the present qualifying examination places in the way of his securing suitable men for the railway mail service, owing to the fact that, when compelled to undergo examination, they find themselves blocked in subjects which have not now, nor are likely to have in the future any practical bearing upon the work which they are called upon to perform. This question having been carefully looked into and considered by the Board in all its bearings, they strongly recommend the creation of a special examination for railway mail clerks only, the same to consist of tests in penmanship, orthography, arithmetic (first four rules, fractions and simple interest), and geography. A subject percentage of 40 and a group or aggregate percentage of 60 should be exacted as necessary to pass.

As Parliament now assembles in the autumn—in November—and as the Board is thus deprived in that month of the accommodation supplied by the chambers of the Senate and House of Commons, an accommodation needed for the great number of candidates offering themselves at this centre, the suggestion is respectfully made that the date of the Civil Service Entrance Examinations be changed to October, as such change is desirable for other reasons, notably to enable the members of the Board to examine the papers and have the results published in good time before the close of the year, a thing now often difficult of accomplishment without needless stress and strain.

The Board feels strongly, moreover, that the remuneration of the sub-examiners who preside at the different 'centres' of examination throughout the Dominion of Canada should be increased to ten dollars per diem; their work is of a highly responsible kind in having to conduct the Civil Service Entrance Examinations with decorum, to safeguard the secrecy of the papers, and to repress all abuses such as personation, copying, borrowing, and so on, and because of this, the Board is also strongly of opinion that only men of professional standing should be appointed as sub-examiners in this regard.

In conclusion, the Board feels that it is almost a work of supererogation to emphasize the necessity—in the best interests of the public service and, therefore, of the country—of rigidly keeping up the standards of examination and of insisting that every employee of the government, whether temporary or permanent, should be subjected to some form of examination as a test of fitness for employment. Doubtless any system and every system of examination is not perfect, no matter how carefully devised and how well safeguarded; but experience has not yet discovered any better or more effective way of securing some uniformity of efficiency in those desiring to serve the state in the various departments of the public service. The Board, indeed, would gladly take a step further in advance, and inaugurate, if clothed with authority in that regard, a system of competitive entrance examinations into the Civil Service; but it is feared that the time for this is not yet ripe in the Dominion.

Irregularities, &c.

One change was made during the year in the regulations relating to cases of copying at Civil Service examinations. It has been decided that candidates convicted of copying or allowing their papers to be copied shall have their examination cancelled, but will not be debarred from again presenting themselves for examination should they desire to do so. This change was agreed to and sanctioned by order in council upon the report of the Secretary of State, who readily acquiesced in the Board's decision.

Application for Re-examination of Papers by Unsuccessful Candidates.

The Board desires to call attention to the rapidly growing practice on the part of unsuccessful candidates of asking for a review of one or more, and in many cases, of all their papers. For some years the Board refused to entertain applications for re-examination of papers, on the ground that the greatest possible care was exercised in doing the work in the first instance and that the decision then arrived at was final. Latterly, however, exceptions were made, under pressure from influential persons, and as it has now become generally understood that applications of this character are considered, there are very few unsuccessful candidates who do not apply to have their papers re-examined. Inasmuch as compliance with these numerous requests entails a large amount of additional labour on the part of the Examiners and their secretary, the Board is of opinion that a regulation should be adopted providing that unsuccessful candidates may have their papers re-examined on payment of a fee of two dollars, which in the event of their appeal being sustained, either wholly or in part, shall be returned to them, otherwise the amount to be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General. The Board would respectfully ask that such a regulation be made in time to take effect before the date of the next entrance examinations.

Sub-Examiners.

The Board have again pleasure in reporting that the staff of sub-examiners continue to give every satisfaction in the performance of their duties.

The staff of sub-examiners in connection with the Board is as follows:—

HOBBEMA AGENCY, PONOKA, ALBERTA,
January 1, 1906.

The Secretary
Of the Department of Indian Affairs,
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward a report on the progress and condition of the Indians under my charge.

I am much pleased to be able to report that the Indians of this agency are more comfortable this winter than ever before. They had a fair crop of grain and roots, which will be of great assistance to them during the winter. Many families have stored with me seed wheat for the coming spring which is a move in the right direction and shows a willingness to try and do better. The climate here is not very good for wheat, but I encourage them to keep on. The crop this year was good and helps me to convince them that wheat can be grown if not quite so good as further east it can be made into flour for them.

I am glad to report that I have pushed on four hundred Indians to be self-supporting in the following manner: Raising crops of grain and roots, raising cattle, fishing, hunting and driving logs. A few also work in the saw-mills at Ponoka and a few have been out freighting for the new branch railway from Lacombe. They also sell hay and wood.

These self-supporting Indians have been working hard during hay and harvest time and are now just done threshing, and their grain turned out well, which will no doubt encourage them to put in a larger acreage next spring.

These Indians have raised 2,400 bushels of wheat and 3,323 bushels of oats.

They cut and stacked 4,571 tons of hay to feed their cattle, and will have some for sale.

They have built 11 houses for themselves and families; they will be very comforable this winter.

I may say that I have about 130 semi-destitute, consisting of aged people of both sexes, who are able to do a little towards self-support, such as fishing, hunting rats and rabbits in season, and saw a little wood in the towns.

I have also 180 old and destitute, who are able to do nothing to help themselves, made up of very old men and women, lame and blind, and otherwise crippled; there are also a number of these destitute very sick, chiefly suffering from consumption, rheumatism, and other diseases which follow a wornout system or general debility caused by old age.

I have much pleasure to be able to report that my Indians have been very successful this year in raising cattle, they have lost less than one per cent by sickness or accident, and have branded 215 calves, which is good showing. These Indians have put into my storehouse, to be returned to them in small quantities, being for self-support, 24,549 lbs. of beef, and sold the following quantity to the department for destitute Indians, employees and Indian workers, 23,612 lbs. All their cattle are in good condition, well housed with plenty of hay and water handy to their stables, and are being well looked after. All the calves are taken from the cows to be weaned and kept by themselves during winter. In many cases wells are sunk to water the calves, so that they are not taken out of their stables in stormy weather.

This also is an improvement and will show that these Indians are taking more interest in the cattle industry; the only drawback here is that the winters are so long that it takes a very large quantity of hay to carry so many cattle as these Indians have through the long winters—we generally have to feed cattle for five months. I might say that these Indians are never short of hay. They have some hay in stack since last year as it was not required last spring. They also put up a quantity for sale which came in handy for them to buy tea, tobacco and clothing for themselves so as to make them comfortable during the very cold weather we have in this part of the country.

Before I close this report I wish to state that I have been ably and faithfully assisted by my staff in carrying out the wishes of the department in a general way both for the benefit of the Indians and the department.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. S. GRANT,
Indian Agent.

60 Gold.—The gold-producing industries of all the provinces show an encouraging increase in comparison with previous years. The largest contributor, as for several years past, has been the Yukon Territory, which is to be credited with over 57 per cent; British Columbia coming next with nearly 40 per cent. Nova Scotia and Ontario together with a little from Quebec and Alberta, completed the remainder of a little under 3 per cent necessary to make up the total.

In Nova Scotia, there was a slight recovery from the general decrease in the production, which has been apparent for a number of years. The explanation would seem to lie in the fact that the immediately accessible surface ores of most of the districts have been mostly worked out, and the revival of the industry will depend upon the inauguration of a radically different policy to that which has been followed so far. It is believed that consolidation of many of the numerous smaller mines and the inauguration of new methods and plant suitable for the economical mining of ore from greater depths, will lead to renewed activity. As these matters seem to be receiving serious attention, a revival of the industry is looked for.

In Ontario, activity was evident in prospecting and developing at numerous points both in the old districts in the eastern parts of the province and in the newer gold-bearing districts west of Thunder Bay.

In British Columbia, a dry season is said to have affected the production of placer gold, but as a whole the industry is about as last year.

The output of the Yukon Territory placers continued to fall off as expected, and will probably continue until under favourable conditions the more permanent forms of mining of the lower grade bodies of gravels are fully established.

100 Copper.—In the production of this metal, British Columbia still retains the pre-eminence. In 1904, the province was credited with over 80 per cent of the whole, and although still maintaining a very long lead, increased production both in Ontario and Quebec have considerably reduced that held by the western province.

The copper of Quebec still represents the contents of the pyritous ores mined for so long a period of years; whilst the Ontario output is, as formerly produced in operating the nickel and copper ores of Sudbury. A number of small mines are worked upon deposits of chalcopyrite and the recent change of ownership of the Bruce mines would seem to promise the early re-entry of these old mines into the field of activity. So far, however, the Sudbury mines must be credited with the bulk of the results.

In British Columbia, the figures show a continued increase in the output of copper-bearing products. In 1904, the Boundary district produced over 61 per cent; the Rossland camp about 20 per cent; the Coast district over 16 per cent, the remaining approximation (3 per cent) being derived from Yale, Kamloops, Nelson and various other districts. It is locally estimated that the Boundary district increased its output by probably $1,000,000, the other districts remaining practically stationary or showing slight falling off, so that the prominence of the first-named camp must have been considerably increased.

The increase in the total value of the output of copper for the Dominion has been greatly enhanced by the rise in the average price of the metal of about 3 cents.

60 ENGINEERING NOTES AND NEWS.

THE VALUE OF EXPERT ENGINEERS IN THE MANAGEMENT OF MINES.

The importance of a carefully-thought-out scheme of operations and properly-designed machinery cannot be over-estimated in mining. A mine contains a certain definite quantity of mineral, which is capable of yielding a certain maximum profit. The difference between the value of the product attainable and the expense of winning it (including the cost of shafts, adits, their equipment, and all the other dead work), plus interest on the investment, is the profit. Money spent on useless dead work or ill-advised dead-work, which increases operating cost above what it ought to be, is money wasted, diminishing the net result of the mine by just so much. It is fortunate if it does not cause the attempt to develop the mine to be utterly abortive. A rich mine may stand much mismanagement, while in the case of a poor mine the maximum margin of profit may be entirely offset by the waste attributable to incompetent exploitation. The loss through misdirected preliminary work may consume all the capital of the original adventurers, and prevent them from carrying on the work sufficiently to recoup themselves, even when the mine offers the chance. British investors do not need to be reminded of good mines spoiled by mismanagement. The moral is very simple, says the Engineering and Mining Journal.

100 MAGICIAN'S LATEST DREAM.

Nicola Tesla has a Scheme for Telegraphy without Wires.

Nicola Tesla, the electrician and scientist, has for some time had in course of development a project for instantaneous and simultaneous communication to all parts of the earth, and perhaps to some of the nearer planets. His plan does not deal with fireworks, nor with the illumination of a large part of the earth's surface in a hope of attracting the attention of dwellers on Mars, but depends wholley upon the properties of electric waves. Mr. Tesla says:—

'I have had this scheme under consideration for five or six years, and I am becoming more nearly convinced every day that it is based upon scientific principles, and is thoroughly practicable. We know that electric disturbances on the sun are productive of similar disturbances on the earth in the form of thunder showers. Now, why is it not equally conceivable that a disturbance on the earth's surface should produce some tangible effect on other planets? The transmission of disturbances on the sun shows beyond doubt that waves of electricity are propagated through all space.

'The objection may be put forward that sufficient electricity to create disturbances cannot be made on the earth's surface, and that we should be wholly dependent upon thunder storms and other phenomena of nature for the success of our experiment. But on the contrary, we can make all the artificial thunder and lightning we want. There is no difficulty in making electric apparatus with a spark gap of a mile, and if that did not prove effective it could be increased.'

100 The imeadyate reeson aledged for the present atempt at spelling-reform is a purely practicle one arizeing from the peculier condishons of a problem which has for yeers confrunted the peepel of the united staits. They are ingaged in the ardueous task of asimmilateing hundreds of thousends of forrinners ignorent of the english langwage. They are striveing to make thees and moar particlarly there children fit for sitizenship. They are trying to empart to them the ideeal of the english-speeking race and to trane them in the laws and in the langwidge inherrited from that races english ancesters. And they hav found one grate obsticle in the eratic and absurd orthography of english. To nun amung them was this obsticle moar obvius than to the teechers. How far we in england are able to apresheate this imence practicle difeculty, or, apresheateing it, to simpathise with the proposed meens of remmedy, is a question that may be left for laiter conciderashon, when all the facters of the problem are bettor grasped. What conserns us at the moment is the pint that the movement is no suddin eratic and wanten impulse, but a delibrate, well conciderd and cawsheously restraned efort to mittegait a sosheal imbarasment amounting to a nashunal misscheef. It needs but superfishial examination to justefy the moovment on the part of the amerecans; whither we shood take it up hear, in hole or in part, is annuther kwestiun. We are but little consernd with the asimmilation of forrin imegrants, but, in the opinyon of some eduecashunists well intitled to an opinyon, there is no lack of other grounds for some consheous advance even hear in a similar direction.

100 BIRD MIGRANTS AND THE STORM.

To the Editor of The Globe: The severe snowstorm, which passed over Ontario on Thursday night, proved as destructive to the small birds migrating across the south end of Lake Huron as it did to the orchard and shade trees throughout the country.

There were thousands of them lying dead along the shore, half buried in the sand, at high-water mark, from Stony Point to Grand Bend, and probably to Goderich. It was a sad sight.

I examined them from Stony Point for three miles east, and found them to be white-throated, white-crowned, field and tree sparrows, juncoes, rusty blackbirds, robbins, Wilson's thrushes, owls, small hawks, golden and ruby crowned kinglets, winter wrens and pine siskins.

The most numerous were white-throated and tree sparrows, juncoes, golden-crowned kinglets and rusty blackbirds. I expected to find many different warblers among them, but did not find one.

A lady brought me in a myrtle warbler and winter wren killed the same night flying against the windows of her house. There must have been an immense flock of these birds, and they must have become exhausted and bewildered by the driving storm, and dropped into the lake and washed ashore, as none of them were found beyond the high-water mark.

DOWNING STREET,
1st June, 1906.

100 SIR,—I have had recently under consideration certain points which have arisen in connection with the position and treatment of Foreign Consuls in the Colonies, and, after communication with the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, I have thought it proper to lay down certain principles for the guidance of Governors. You will understand that it is not expected that they can be applied in Colonies where a different practice has been established, but it is my desire that Colonial Governors should look to them as a guide in future when opportunities occur of applying them without unnecessary friction.

2. No general instructions to Colonial Governors respecting the position and treatment of Consuls appear to have been issued since a date nearly forty years ago, when it was intimated that if in any Colony precedence was, as a matter of courtesy, already accorded to the Foreign Consular Body, no alteration should be made, with the view of assimilating the practice to that in force in this country, without reference to the Secretary of State. It was observed, however, that Foreign Consuls in England have no claim of precedence, and are treated like any other Foreigners resident in England. This principle, I may now observe, equally extends to the Colonies, and it is not desirable that any instructions should be given tending to recognize the principle of according precedence to the Foreign Consular Body. In 1863 a claim was advanced by the Consular Body at Sydney to be admitted to the entrée at the Governor's levée on the occasion of the Sovereign's Birthday, and it was then stated that the rule of Her Majesty's Court was, that as Consuls-General and Consuls had no diplomatic character, and were not visitors of the Court, they fell into the class of Foreigners resident in England and went to the general entrée and were presented in the general circle.

3. As regards privileges or exemptions, it was held, on a claim advanced by the Spanish Consul at Brisbane in 1856, that there were no privileges to which Foreign Consuls were strictly or legally entitled, as a right, in Great Britain or in any of her Colonies; that the English law considered them amenable to civil and criminal jurisdiction, did not give them, or allow them, any legal privileges whatever, and could hardly be said to recognize them in their official character; and that such privileges or exemptions as they might enjoy were conceded to them (if at all) either by the Executive or Local Authorities at their discretion or by usage and courtesy.

ANNUAL REPORT

FOR THE YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1906

PRINTED BY ORDER OF PARLIAMENT

OTTAWA
PRINTED BY S. E. DAWSON, PRINTER TO THE KING'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY

To His Excellency the Right Honourable Sir Albert Henry George, Earl Grey, Viscount Howick, Baron Grey of Howick, in the County of Northumberland, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom, and a Baronet; Knight Grand Cross of the Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George, &c., &c., Governor General of Canada.

May it Please Your Excellency:

The undersigned has the honour to present to Your Excellency the Annual Report of the Department of Public Printing and Stationery, for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. W. SCOTT,
Secretary of State.

Ottawa, March, 1907.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC PRINTING AND STATIONERY.
OFFICE OF THE KING'S PRINTER AND CONTROLLER OF STATIONERY,
OTTAWA, March 26, 1907.

The Honourable
R. W. SCOTT, K.C., LL.D.,
Secretary of State.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the usual annual report of the Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906. The transactions of the three Branches into which it is divided are shown in detail in the appended reports, respectively, of the Accountant, the Superintendent of Printing and the Superintendent of Stationery.

The alterations at the Printing Bureau have been a very serious drawback to the operations of the year. They commenced in the fall of 1905 and the flooring of the new flat was not completed until November, 1906. In the fall of 1906 the stock of books, statutes and reports was removed to the top story of the building. They had been packed solidly in an outhouse for a year. During all the intervening time the Bureau was deprived of the use of the top story and the other floors were obstructed by goods and sheets of books in process of manufacture.

The assembling of Parliament at the unprecedentedly early date of November 22 threw the work of a new session upon the Department before that of the previous session could be cleared away. The new Reports coming in overlapped upon work usually overtaken in the recess and it was therefore necessary to supplement the normal day by much overtime. This in manufacturing is not economical and should be avoided when possible. The copy for the Departmental Reports came in close together and the complete reports were all wanted at the same time.

It fortunately happened that in November the new bindery flat was completed. It was floored, lighted and heated just in time and became then available for the handling of sheet work in progress. That fact saved the situation because for the first time it became possible to put in some new labour-saving machines and to spread out the sheets of a number of different books at the same time. The work of Parliament, owing to that fact, was carried on unchecked while the Reports so necessary for passing the Estimates were prepared simultaneously.

The following table records the progress of that portion of the printing :—

The work of printing the Revised Statutes, 1906, came on at the same time with other important and urgent publications. Much preliminary printing had been going on for several years. On August 27, 1906, the copy of the final revision came in. The printing began in earnest and was carried on with great rapidity. The work proper consists of three volumes containing 2,960 pages. The final setting began on August 27, 1906. There was no delay with the proofs. The Department of Justice did everything in its power to facilitate the work and the last sheet was printed on October 23 and bound copies were delivered to the Commissioners on the following day. The enacting Act and the Proclamation had, however, to be printed in the first volume. The proclamation was issued on January 25 and the Act was assented to on January 30, 1907. Everything had been got ready in advance and on January 31 distribution of the bound copies commenced.

The copy for the index was not, however, ready until January 29, 1907, and, as it had been decided to put the index into a fourth volume together with the B.N.A. Act and some other matter not forming part of the Revised Statutes proper, the distribution of the three volumes was commenced on January 31, and is now complete, excepting that only one copy has been sent to each person. Those (as for instance Members of Parliament) who are entitled to receive more will get them after volume 4 is distributed. The fourth volume is now ready and distribution will go on at once.

As in 1886, the full text of the Revised Statutes is not provided for Justices of the Peace, but a special volume has been prepared for their use. It contains the Criminal Code and such other Statutes as are necessary. It is printed and, after binding, distribution will begin. Besides these the most important Acts, such as the Bank Act, Railway Act, Insurance Act, Election Act, etc., have been got out as separate chapters. All of the Chapters will be printed separately as soon as possible and kept for sale.

From the above table it will be seen that the reports were got out with much despatch. The time taken to set books of hundreds of solid pages of figures is of necessity considerable, and is no more entitled to be called delay than the time spent in compiling the copy or reading the proofs. The work of printing goes on as fast as the proofs can be read by the departmental officers. When, however, the printing of two or more reports is completed at the same time, one must follow the other, and delay may sometimes occur in the bindery, because from the first laying out of the building it was too small. This was pointed out as long ago as 1892, but no remedy was provided until the present year. There was simply no room for additional men or for the new machines which, of recent years, have been invented to increase production. As soon, however, as the floor of the new flat was laid some labour-saving machines were put in which assisted greatly in getting out this season's work in good time.

Audit Branch.

The work done by the audit staff will be found tabulated in the accountant's report. It is as follows:—

Amount of advertising accounts audited	$107,812 56
" lithographing and printing accounts	137,612 28
" Intercolonial Railway accounts	79,228 93

The number of accounts audited was over 8,000, and the correspondence entailed was of necessity large.

Stationery Branch.

The business of the Stationery Branch shows a net increase over last year of $16,731.99. The aggregate amount has more than doubled since the year 1899. The number of packages sent out in 1900 was 12,560, and in the last year (1906) was 30,835. These figures are an index to the great increase incessantly going on all through the department.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

S. E. DAWSON,

King's Printer and Controller of Stationery.

For convenience of reference a full list with prices is subjoined of all the volumes of Reports of Parliamentary Debates which have been printed. It should be noted that the first three years are condensed reports only, and that down to 1880 the work was done by various hands. The present system commenced with the session of 1881.

REPORT OF THE JOINT LIBRARIANS OF PARLIAMENT.

To the Honourable the Speaker of the Senate:

To the Honourable the Speaker of the House of Commons:

The Joint Librarians of Parliament have the honour to report as follows:—

The shortness of the recess necessarily prevented any accumulation of business.

The various departments of the Library have been supplied, as far as possible, with books and pamphlets issued since the close of the last Session.

Efforts have been made to find convenient shelf-space for some over-crowded sections; and the need for the expected improvements has become more than ever obvious.

Considerable expenditure was called for to supply the Revised Statutes of the various States of the American Union. When the new edition of the Revised Statutes of Canada is issued the Librarians will no doubt be in a position to exchange the volumes for similar publications. Application has been made to the Printing Committee for an order for a sufficient number of copies to supply the Library exchanges.

The catalogue of French works on politics, political economy, social science, having become obsolete with time, a new one was begun during the last Session and completed during recess. It is now in the press. This part of the Catalogue has been made, according to the most recent methods, and in its numerous sections will be found works on political science, social economy, sociology, finance, social science and kindred subjects.

As Members of Parliament are well aware, people in foreign countries, especially in Europe, take more and more interest in the discussions raised years ago and kept up ever since, on the relations of capital and labour, on socialism, on the dangers of Trusts, Cartells, &c. The most recent remarkable works on those subjects have been secured and are to be found in the Library.

During September last, a very important Congress, that of the Américanistes, was held in Quebec. Among their transactions, important papers were read on the manners, customs, and folk lore of the aborigines of our continent. Arrangements have been made to add those valuable contributions to the Library.

Owing to the pressure of business and the preoccupation of Members, it has not been found convenient for several Sessions to get more than one meeting of the Joint Committee; and the Sub-Committee of Audit have been for the same reasons irregular. As the duties of the Sub-Committee of Audit are minute and troublesome, and are in any case superfluous in view of constant supervision of the Auditor General, the Librarians will hereafter, unless otherwise ordered, report direct to the Committee, in detail, as to the expenditure for the purchase of books, in the form hitherto followed. In the meantime they submit herewith, for the information of the House, a tabulated and classified statement of the purchases made during the past three seasons.

The annual Catalogue of the books purchased during the year will be begun at the usual time and presented during the Session.

The list of donations is appended as usual.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A. D. DeCELLES, General Librarian.

MARTIN J. GRIFFIN, Public Librarian.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

INSPECTORS OF PENITENTIARIES

FOR THE

FISCAL YEAR 1905-6

To the Honourable A. B. Aylesworth, K.C.,
Minister of Justice.

Sir,—We have the honour to submit herewith reports and statistics in connection with the penitentiaries of Canada for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906.

The reports and statistics in connection with Regina jail, Prince Albert jail and the Yukon penitentiaries will be found in appendices 'N,' 'O,' and 'P,' respectively.

The tabulated statistics include only those referring to the penitentiaries under our supervision.

POPULATION.

The average daily population of the penitentiaries for the past seven years has been as follows:—

1899-0	1,430
1900-1	1,405
1901-2	1,294
1902-3	1,224
1903-4	1,286
1904-5	1,359
1905-6	1,407

It will be observed that although there is an increase as compared with the preceding year the population is still below the number in custody seven years ago. During the past year there has been an increase at every penitentiary except Dorchester.

* One since recaptured.

The increase in the number received from jails is ten per cent as compared with the previous year.

The escape from Manitoba penitentiary was due chiefly to the structural insecurity of the cells in which the escaped convicts were incarcerated and the defects will be remedied before the cells are again occupied.

* One recaptured.

The continued success that has characterized the operation of the parole system fully justifies the increase in the number of paroles granted. The report of the officer in charge of that department of prison work will be found in 'Appendix A' and speaks for itself. The responsibility of supervising several hundred convicted men, scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is sufficient to tax the energies of any one man, and it is gratifying, therefore, to know that the work, formerly performed by Mr. Archibald, in connection with those discharged by expiry of sentence is being continued by Lt.-Col. Pugmire, of the Salvation Army, who has already proved himself a good Samaritan to many a friendless convict as he emerged from legal death to citizenship.

With Mr. Archibald's supervision of those who have been granted parole and Lt.-Col. Pugmire ready to assist those who are otherwise discharged there is no reason why any man on leaving the prison should find it necessary to resume a criminal career.

A secondary, but none the less important, result of the parole system is the pecuniary saving to the taxpayers. There are at present four hundred men, who would otherwise be burdensome dependents on the state, who are now self-supporting producers.

EDUCATION.

Dorchester	172	26	13	211

The number who have a reasonable common school education is very small, probably ten per cent. The number of absolutely illiterate equals sixteen per cent. Many of those who can now read and write were unable to do so when received at the prison.

In addition to the regular school classes, carefully selected libraries, aggregating thirteen thousand volumes, are available to those whose conduct is such as to warrant the granting of the privilege. It is gratifying to note that the library privilege is highly appreciated and is found to be one of the most efficient aids to discipline. The books are selected by a 'library board' consisting of the warden and the chaplains, thus affording the best possible safeguard against the admission of improper literature.

MORAL HABITS.

Total abstainers	197
Temperate	697
Intemperate	545
	1,439

The craving for tobacco, intoxicants and dope follows the convict within the prison and the sentimental pleadings and inducements that are presented to the officers is a daily menace to discipline. In every prison there are officers whose sympathy or cupidity induces them to forget their official responsibility and encourage evasion of the prohibitory regulations in this regard. From time to time officers suffer dismissal for their disloyalty in yielding to the inducements of the convicts, but is it satisfactory to realize that at each institution the staff, generally, enforce the regulations to the best of their ability.

The wilful violators and the weak sympathizers are, fortunately, in a hopeless minority. The danger is noted, however, to emphasize the necessity of care in selecting appointees to the staff. A 'devil's advocate' on the staff of a prison will undo the work of ten loyal officers.

AGE.

Those under twenty years of age constitute one-eighth of the prison population. At St. Vincent de Paul they comprise twenty per cent of the inmates. It is possible that the excess of youthful convicts at this institution is due, at least in part, to the fact that there is no provincial prison except the district jail to which offenders may be sent. In Ontario there is an admirably managed Central Prison to which this class of offenders are more generally sentenced. We cannot emphasize too strongly the opinion, based on personal observation, that association with experienced criminals incidental to penitentiary life is the most dangerous environment in which a lad can be placed.

PUNISHMENTS.

When, a number of years since, the 'triangle' and the 'dark' dungeon were eliminated from the list of penitentiary punishments it was predicted by many that order would be destroyed. The experience of subsequent years has not justified the fear then expressed. During the past year fifty-five per cent of the convicts received no prison punishment whatever. The most common punishment is the loss of remission time earned.

DURATION OF SENTENCE.

There are 56 convicts serving life sentences and 79 others who have sentences of more than ten years. The number serving sentences in excess of ten years is less than ten per cent. This is not more than one-third of the habitual and inveterate criminals in custody, and it follows that by the operation of the fixed sentence system scores of determined and dangerous men are released by expiry of sentence to prey upon the personal rights and property of other citizens. If the object of penal laws be the protection of society that object is not obtained or attainable under a system of fixed sentences. If, as the result of a mistake in the exercise of the prerogative of clemency, one man in a thousand subsequently abuses his freedom the authorities are subjected to general criticism, while scores of dangerous and determined criminals are annually released on expiry of sentence without a word of protest. Society is the slave as well as the victim of usage.

If a physician sent his patient to an hospital or an asylum for a fixed period, with instructions that the patient be released at the end of that period irrespective of his condition, the physician would be considered a candidate for the asylum. The system of fixed sentences for the protection of society is, however, no less absurd and unsafe.

Common sense and public safety demand that dangerous and habitual criminals be kept in custody until they give reasonable assurance of reform.

In the statistics of some countries the origin is substituted for, or accepted as, the nationality. In the foregoing table the actual place of birth is taken to indicate the nationality. Every convict born in Canada, irrespective of parental origin, is classed as a Canadian.

The fact that the aborigines are more law-abiding than the average white man is no doubt due, in part, to the extra surveillance exercised by the government over its wards. The showing is, however, alike creditable to the race and to the officials who are charged with their oversight.

The foregoing table includes the total cost of the penitentiaries to the country—not only current or operating expenses but expenditure for lands, buildings and permanent improvements that may fairly be designated capital account. The latter expenditure fluctuates from year to year and it is necessary to consider the cost exclusive of it in order to obtain an accurate idea of the actual cost of maintaining and operating the institutions. The following table gives the comparative cost for the past three years, exclusive of expenditure for lands buildings and equipment.

JAILS.

The jails at Regina and Prince Albert were, at the beginning of the fiscal year, maintained at Federal expense as territorial jails. When the province of Saskatchewan was established the maintenance of the prisoners in those institutions became a charge upon the province. Inasmuch, however, as a Federal appropriation had been provided for the maintenance of the jails for the entire fiscal year and no provincial appropriation was available an arrangement was made that the jails should be maintained by this department until the close of the fiscal year—the cost of maintenance incurred subsequently to the establishment of the province to be charged to the province of Saskatchewan. The purchase by the province of the existing jail properties is now in course of negotiation.

Respectfully submitted,

ARCHITECT'S REPORT.

Ottawa, August 28, 1906.

Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

Sirs,—I have the honour to report that during the past year considerable progress has been made in structural and other works in connection with the various penitentiaries.

At Kingston the work of reconstructing the east wing has been brought to completion, thus finishing the reconstruction of the dormitory wings that was begun in 1895. When the penitentiary was built the cells were similar to those in general use at that period. They were very small, badly ventilated and ill-lighted. It was decided to reconstruct them in accordance with modern ideas. The cells were demolished and new ones constructed that are roomy, well lighted, and thoroughly ventilated, each cell being provided with sanitary conveniences and comfortable beds. The penitentiary as reconstructed is thoroughly in accord with modern ideas. The stone and iron work used was provided by convict labour and compares favourably with similar work anywhere. This work provided useful employment for many of the convicts and enabled them to learn several useful trades, such as quarrying, stonedressing, masonry, bricklaying, cement work, iron and steel work, plumbing, plastering, carpentry and painting.

The most important work carried on at St. Vincent de Paul was the erection of the industrial building. A section containing blacksmith's, engineer's, and carpenter's departments, was completed. The building is solidly constructed of cut-stone. Here as at the other penitentiaries the convicts are instructed in the various trades and many of them on leaving the penitentiary find profitable employment.

At Dorchester a large reservoir was constructed and considerable progress made in the erection of the industrial building to replace the wooden structures that were built when the penitentiary was erected.

At Manitoba the new cell wing was begun and we hope it will be completed next year. It will contain 128 cells, built on the plan adopted when the reconstruction of Kingston penitentiary was undertaken. The brick used is produced by convict labour. During the winter extensive alterations were made in the kitchen and bakery—enlarging them to provide for the greatly increased prison population. Excavation for the basement of another section of the industrial building was made and the erection of the building will be undertaken as soon as the cell wing is completed. Some progress was made with the erection of the stone wall surrounding the yard. The water supply is barely sufficient for the present population. If the population continues to increase it will be necessary soon to provide a more liberal supply. A pumping station at some distance from the penitentiary may have to be installed. A number of farm buildings are required and should be erected as soon as possible.

At British Columbia penitentiary, the construction of an industrial building to replace the inconvenient wooden buildings that have been in use since the penitentiary was erected, was begun. It is being built of brick made by convict labour, and will provide ample room for all the industries of the penitentiary. The laundry and the tailor's and shoemaker's shops are completed. The walls of the carpenter, blacksmith and engineer's shops are about half built. The buildings are surrounded by a twelve-foot wooden fence which adds to the security of the penitentiary. A strongly built camp was erected on Wright Island, in Pitt lake, where it is our intention to quarry stone for the foundations of the penitentiary buildings and boundary wall and cut wood for the burning of brick. The stone and wood will be towed down the river twenty miles to the penitentiary.

At all the penitentiaries convict labour is used to produce the materials required in structural work as well as in the erection of the various buildings, such materials only as cannot be produced by convict labour are purchased, such as iron, steel, hardware, glass, cement, lumber, etc. The expenditure for such materials does not exceed one-quarter of the value of the completed buildings. In addition to this saving effected by using convict labour, the work enables us to train many convicts in useful trades, and many of those who have learned trades in our penitentiaries may be found in the large cities of our country leading honest lives and earning the liberal wages paid skilled workmen.

I have the honour to be, sirs,
Your obedient servant,

E. J. ADAMS,
Architect.

APPENDIX A.

DOMINION PAROLE OFFICER'S REPORT

The Honourable A. B. Aylesworth, K.C.,
Minister of Justice.

Sir,—I beg to submit my report on the parole system for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906.

During the year 181 paroles were extended to the inmates of the penitentiaries, an increase of 54 over the year previous.

The number of paroled from the jails, prisons, and reformatories was 94, an increase of 2 over the year previous.

The total number of paroles granted during the year was 278.

The number of sentences expiring on parole during the year was 206, an increase of 158 over the previous year.

The number of men now reporting on parole is 297.

During the six years' operation of the parole system 848 have completed their sentence on parole and have thus earned their full liberty.

The total number placed on parole since the first year of the parole act (1899-00), is 1,360.

The total number of licenses cancelled during the six years was 115, (83 for non-compliance with regulations, and 32 forfeited by subsequent convictions).

The number of licenses cancelled during the past year was 15, two less than the year previous.

The following is the tabulated statement of paroles issued during the last fiscal year:—

(This table is included in the above report.)

Two of this number were returned to Dorchester penitentiary on subsequent conviction.

The criminals under custody to-day have not attracted too much attention by the adoption of the parole system or any other method for their betterment. The motive of the parole is to encourage the criminal to amendment and to become law-abiding. Society cannot safely neglect its criminals notwithstanding the fact that the cost of crime is a great burden to the public treasury.

The calamities of crime are no respecter of persons. They reach to the purest domestic circles and to the happiest of our homes. We are indeed 'our brother's keeper.' I have found the golden rule as sound in the principle of a good citizen as it is in religion, and the doctrine of Cain no more false in religion than it is in the philosophy of common sense. We hear protests against the releasing of the recidivist criminal whom the police regard as incorrigible, but, what about releasing the reformed criminal in a cold, hard and unsympathetic community, with an unequal battle to wage, sometimes without a home or a friend, to be overwhelmed with temptation and sometimes hounded until driven by despair he lapses into the criminal life. When the prevention of crime shall secure the proportion of attention which it deserves, the discharged convict will not lack the consideration he deserves. His proper treatment is as truly a preventive work as the proper treatment of the embryo criminal, for, if the prevention of the first crime is primary and most important, then the prevention of habitual criminality on the part of one who has committed his first offence is of equal moment. Is not the necessity of a proper up-to-date treatment as great a need in one case as the other? Habitual criminality is usually attributed to an ingrained evil character. Much of it has its origin in mere weakness. Sometimes it is caused by lack of opportunity, or, causes may be traced to the discouragements which often result from the failure to secure a place in the strenuous life we live; or, companionship or environment, have been the cause of social disorders, not to say anything of the enmity a community has against the transgressor when an offence has been committed and published abroad. The peculiar and almost universal relationship of indolence with crime teaches us that if we are to hope for the convict's ultimate reformation it is absolutely necessary that we have suitable employment ready for the man on his discharge from custody. Nothing is so pre-eminently successful in this work as suitable employment and opportunity. A paroled man is still a prisoner in the eyes of the law and his release is simply a test of his willingness and ability to maintain himself as an honest man. In his license he agrees to be temperate and to abstain from vicious associations, and that he will conduct himself in all things as honest and law-abiding. If he is a proper subject to be released he is willing to accept these conditions. The Government on their side assure him that he will have a proper chance, and that he will be protected from persecution. The Government also assume the duty of seeing that he follows the conditions of his license. Prisoners should not be discharged direct from a penitentiary without at least some provision being made for them outside. The step from actual imprisonment to absolute liberty is too great for many to take. Under the parole system his absolute discharge follows on a more or less protracted period. This is one of the reasons of the splendid percentage of men who have been released on parole, who have proven themselves satisfactory cases and have earned their full liberty. Giving doles to a discharged prisoner is not a charitable act, but he should have employment and opportunity to prove himself.

It has been said, and very unjustly too, that our penitentiaries are universities of crime, whose pupils are the enemies of society; and that the criminal class is everywhere made up of men who have received their education in custody. I do not believe that such a statement can be true. If it be so, the more quickly our penal institutions are abolished the better it will be for society. Whatever may have been the condition of the penal institutions in former years, modern institutions do not make criminals. On the other hand they are doing much to unmake them. A large proportion of the prisoners annually discharged from our penitentiaries are far better equipped for gaining an honest living under fair treatment than when they were received. I believe as a rule their physical, mental, and moral conditions are greatly improved through their detention and subsequent treatment. Habits of industry are formed through their being employed at industrial pursuits, discipline is taught which gives men the stronger sense of self-control and self-government. There is no cruelty in a strong or well organized discipline, in fact, cruelty is more often practised where discipline is lax, and an unknown quality. But even should these conditions exist in some of the penal institutions the man generally goes out better than when received.

The man we call a criminal cannot be defined at one glance. He defies any single angle vision. He cannot be estimated from one viewpoint far or near. The police see him as a disturber of the peace, and, one whom they may legitimately exploit. The judge sees him as the violator of law and order, and a subject for all the terrors which the law calls for. The warden of a penal institution sees him under conviction of a crime, to him the fact of his detention and presence in a penitentiary is grim punishment in itself, and he proceeds to carry out the instructions of 'rule and regulation.' Society sees him as a menace to its quiet and good order, and whether the violator of law is in cell or in dungeon, is satisfied to know itself so well rid of this menace.

The criminal will never cease to be a profound study until we have clearly defined the causes which have deflected him from the straight line of accepted conduct to one of such acute moral obliquity. Within our penitentiaries today we have about 1,300 souls. Until the causes which have produced such anti-social results in these units of society are discovered, the criminal man will be the study of the philanthropist and the political economist from whatever viewpoint it may be prosecuted. To seek for the fatal causes which have produced criminals in the heart, and which are still producing them, is one of the quests of the Holy Grail of our century. There are hopeful indications that the quest is neither vain nor delusive.

One thing is certain: we have greatly advanced our methods of dealing with the criminal of late years. We cannot corral all men into classes, or put the brand of disfavour on the masses. The time is not long since the inebriate was the declared incarnation of all perversity and the embodiment of an evil genius. Since it was written that he had no inheritance in the Kingdom of God, it has been a contention among thousands whether he should have allotted to him any inheritance in the kingdom of men. We have learned a more righteous way in dealing with the inebriate. He has been taken in hand by more kindly hands who search for causes as well as the effects, and the inebriate treatment will undergo a radical change during the next decade of research. One thing that is patent to almost everybody to-day is embodied in the fact that inebriety is not, as a rule, a vicious and criminal perversity in men. Perhaps some predisposing cause outside of a depraved heart, where we have so continuously located it, may be held to answer for the masterful drink impulse. The discovery that inebriety may be the symptom of a pathological condition of the brain, and of the nerve centres, and, that the drink impulse is but physical demand for relief—the wild and the maniac cry of the inner man—throws a more lurid light over the way which the unfortunate drunkard has stumbled in his fate for a thousand years. The man in the midst of the drink storm is not found to be a moral delinquent only—he is a physical and mental delinquent. He is an anti-maniac. It is not a jail that is demanded for him, it is the retreat of an asylum. The man is not only sick but impotent. It is not a prison that is needed, but a catholicon within the ward of an hospital.

When once the inebriate is safe out of the hands of the jailer and safe within the hands of the medical practitioner these predisposing causes in the disordered nerve centres will receive an intelligent analysis and treatment. Everything that appeals to the soul and spirit as well as to the reparation of tissue has its place in the medical armamentarium. Already in Canada there is a move in the right direction and the inebriate in Montreal and Toronto is receiving medical attention as special cases. It is the dawn of a better day for this unfortunate man. Theology and pathology are joined together in quest of the source of the inebriate's degeneracy, the one is in no danger of interfering in the domain of the other, both have their province of usefulness in the betterment of men.

To the broadminded and thoughtful, the criminal appeals, as an accident in a great plan. He is not so much the harmful and vicious despoiler as he is himself harmed and despoiled. He is out of place in the vast aggression; and, but for him as an agreeing and accordant aggression, he is an energy misdirected, and because misdirected, not only a wasted energy but one of danger. To remove the menace to society this energy must be turned into another channel, a channel of usefulness and activity. The criminal man or woman is abnormal and out of adjustment, but this does not signify he or she is therefore unadjustable. He must be brought to the right place and adjusted. The problem is, how far can their readjustment be made without sacrificing the existing relations between the doers of the law, and the law-breakers?

One of the highest English authorities I have read on this question states:—'It is on the assumption that punishment will have the effect of deterring crime that its infliction can alone be justified. It may be well doubted, whether, in more recent times, the humane and praiseworthy desire to restore and reform the fallen criminal, may not have produced too great a tendency to forget that the protection of society should be the first consideration of the law-giver.'

The embordination of the unit to the imperious demands of the many, is in result generally the cruel use of a force trusted with the many, not for the suppression of the unit, but for the protection of the unit. Society, to justify its position in the case of the man in prison, speaks today of the 'congenital criminal'; of the 'born thief'; of the 'hereditary drunkard'; until it is almost the popular belief, that all thieves are born thieves, and that all drunkards are born drunkards. What possible interest can you or I have in a born criminal? If such there be, he is an alien to society and out of harmony with humanity. If this be true, he is simply a mortal defect and there is no remedy for such.

Let us get as far away as possible from the thought that men are born thieves, or liars or murderers, and that some men succeed to the woeful estate of the drunkard which they cannot decline. The criminal is not born, he is something made and the modern juggernaut, society, which so heartlessly pronounces men degenerates, and passes them by with a wave of the hand, is too responsible for the existing causes of human deterioration to open its mouth in condemnation.

In conclusion, if we are obliged to admit natal defects in men, so we are obliged to admit natal calamities. But natal defects may be destroyed or eradicated, and so indeed many criminal instincts can be destroyed in the child. They have no such roots or fibre that they reach from the 'cradle to the grave.' Men may be born with the instincts of angels, but neither are these angelic instincts of such root or fibre so strong in a man as to defy extinction.

The social conditions which are competent to uproot the vicious instincts of a child, are also competent to firmly root the disposition and the instincts which are not in character vicious, but full of virtue.

Since theology and pathology have united in the discovery of the genesis of crime, it is found that there is nothing in any man, natal or acquired, which makes him a responsible anti-social unit, or which with one or the other, or perhaps both, of these farces, may not be minimized or wholly destroyed.

We must accept the criminal as he is now revealed to us in the searchlight which science and religion turn upon him. He cannot be dismissed as an anthropological monster, he is one with us: he belongs to us; he must be met and treated as a part of the social fabric of life. He must be helped over the chasm which he has digged with his own hands. The voice of God may fall into a faint whisper in the human soul, but it never dies away into utter silence. The man whose cell may prove his sepulchre, has his past, his ruined broken past, full of wasted opportunities, of fruitless efforts, and unrequited ambitions. He is a man to feel all these things and his soul cries out for the touch of the true and the good.

No man is altogether bad, no one goes so far in wrongdoing but that he can retrace his steps.

An artist once took the face of a seraph and by malicious lines, put into it here and there, changed the seraph's face to that of an evil genius. The order with us must be reversed, we must take the face marked by its evil passion and wrongdoing, and, taking out the sinister lines wrought by the evil, make it the face of the seraph. There is this divine spark in every man. There is a way back to the fair and the good beginning, however devious it may be, or however shadowy its numerous windings.

Respectfully submitted,

W. P. ARCHIBALD,
Dominion Parole Officer.

APPENDIX B

WARDENS' REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, October 1, 1906.

To the Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

SIRS,—I have the honour to present my eighth annual report and to transmit statistical tables and returns from the various departments of the Kingston penitentiary for the year 1905-06.

The original appropriation granted for the year was $177,600. To this was added a supplementary grant of $25,000, making the total appropriation $202,600. Of this amount there was expended $181,386.60. Last year our expenditure was $146,447.80, but during that year debts were contracted and unpaid at the close of the year, amounting to $21,184, which amount was paid from the appropriation for the year last closed. Adding this $21,184 to the expenditure of last year and substracting it from the expenditure for the year covered by this report, we find that the actual expenditure for this year is less than that of last year by more than seven thousand dollars.

PRISON POPULATION.

	Male.	Female.	Total.
Remaining at midnight June 30, 1905	441	7	448
Received during the year	163	5	168
	604	12	616
Discharged during the year	154	2	156
Remaining at midnight June 30, 1906	450	10	460

Discipline.—The number of reports and punishments for the year is, again, exceptionally large; but a large proportion of the reports were for trivial offences, such as talking in shops, and the punishments were, of course, correspondingly light. A large number of reports may indicate unsatisfactory state as to discipline, and, on the other hand, a small number may indicate laxity and carelessness on the part of officers. It is safe to say that the number of prison offences reported and punishments inflicted is not a reliable index as to the general behaviour of the convicts. It is, however, an index as to the vigilance of officers.

Escapes.—Two convicts effected escape from their cells. One of them succeeded in scaling the wall and eluding his pursuers for one week. The other did not escape from the prison proper, but fell in attempting to climb up through an open shaft and received injuries which proved fatal within twenty-four hours. A third attempt was made but the perpetrator was discovered in the act of filing his cell barriers and will be dealt with by the courts outside the prison. All these attempts were made within two months, giving colour to the statement that crime, like suicide, may become epidemic in prison as well as outside. The lesson enforced by the year's experience is, that neither steel barriers nor walls will confine desperate men unless fortified by eternal vigilance on the part of the officers.

Suicide.—Two convicts committed suicide during the year. One was an insane convict and the other was ill in hospital. Inquests were held and verdicts rendered finding suicide by hanging to cell door and exonerating guards on duty in both cases.

Accidents.—No serious accident befel any convict during the year.

The farm.—Our last season's crop of cereals, hay, roots and vegetables, may be ranked amongst the most successful in the history of the prison farm. The high price obtained for pigs materially assisted in the achievement of financial results decidedly satisfactory. Potatoes again proved a failure and we were obliged to secure our supply from distant points at high prices; and, at the time of writing, I am able to say that the story will be repeated when the history of the current year comes to be written. The condition of the farm has been improved by ditching, tilling, levelling of rough and untillable places and building of fences and culverts. Upon the whole our farm work may be said to be our most satisfactory and remunerative industry, and, considering the present and prospective magnitude of the labour problem, the question of diversifying and extending our farming operations may well be set before the department for consideration. Labour for convicts must be provided and farm work has proved itself the best and most remunerative.

Other industries.—Work in the quarry has been continued and much stone has been taken out, but, only a small proportion has been fit for the chisel. We have not yet furnished enough for new window casings for south wing. Repairs to walls and gates will soon demand stones or concrete blocks, which we hope to be able to supply this winter. We have sold some rubble stones for building but have failed to dispose of the macadam and other road metal supplied by the stone-breaking gang. The truth is, we have too many men breaking stones. How shall we employ them at other and more congenial labour? Our blacksmiths are, at last, through with rush work—Edmonton barriers being completed and shipped. New window barriers for south wing will now engage their attention and supply work for some time. Tailors and shoemakers are kept busy with home demands; officers' custom work and Indian contract. Carpenters are kept busy with repairs and some custom work. There is not sufficient work for carpenters.

New cell wing.—I hoped to be able to inform you ere this that our new east wing was completed and occupied. It was intended to have this structure completed by the close of the year, but we failed because of rush work for Alberta penitentiary. All is completed now (and has been for some time) except the blacksmith's work on corridor barriers, and we hope to occupy the reconstructed east wing before winter. Our hopes will be realized unless we receive orders to make something for some western prison. What shall we do with unoccupied parts of the separate ward? Move over the asylum? Make a separate prison for boys? Or keep it as reserve accommodation?

Binder-twine.—As this industry is made the subject of special report at close of the season it is unnecessary to say more than to point out, in a general way, the results of operating under the system prescribed by parliamentary resolution of five years ago, by which we sell to farmers only, on receipt of cash with orders, or to clubs of farmers or to farmers' associations on same terms. We encourage the formation of clubs and cultivate farmers' associations. We ship no twine except on receipt of cash, or to order of responsible bank, or to order of myself with draft against bill of lading, or c.o.d. This season we made extra effort. Mr. Keech was appointed sales agent and sent to the west to encourage and assist in formation of farmers' clubs and make such sales as he could to farmers' associations. The result justified the experiment. We sold more than twice as much as we ever have done before under the 'to farmers only' regulation. But some trouble has ensued. In one or two cases drafts have been refused. Bank had to be instructed to deliver bill of lading to our Mr. Keech and he instructed to distribute twine and make collection. Altogether, however, we have come out pretty well, having only some three tons on our hands in the West. But the result is not satisfactory. We should make and sell 500 tons every year.

We started in last year with about 350 tons. We sold about 200 tons—less than half our possible output. Our twine was as good as any on the market. Our price was about 2 cts. below other twine of same grade. But our terms shut us out. And our terms will always shut us out. Farmers will not send cash for an article they cannot see and many of them cannot send cash because they haven't got it. To get up clubs costs money and increases price of twine. Competitors take advantage of our terms and misrepresent the quality of our twine. Altogether the outlook is discouraging. We should be able to run the mill all the year. Give us the retail dealers—give us the market on equal terms with our competitors and we will sell all the twine we can make if we run our factory night and day every month of the year. If we cannot have the market why run the factory? All this I say after five years' experience with present system.

I forward without special comment, reports from various departments and hope you will find all satisfactory.

In conclusion I am happy to say that there has been but little unpleasantness between officers during the year and that most of them have done faithful service. As for yourselves, I am thankful for prompt assistance and advice when asked for and have only to regret your inability to visit the prison in official capacity except when sent for.

Yours truly,

J. M. PLATT,
Warden.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

St. Vincent de Paul, July 2, 1906.

To the Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

Sirs,—I have the honour to present you my third annual report, and at the same time, submit to you the reports from different departments, showing what has been accomplished at St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary during the fiscal year 1905-1906.

The population at the end of the fiscal year 1904-5 was	357
Received during the year	178
		535
Discharged by expiration of sentence	68
" pardon	4
" parole	46
" transfer	4
" death	3
		125
Remaining June 30, 1906		410

The expenditure for the fiscal year 1905-06, was as follows:—

Staff, including salaries, retiring allowances, uniforms and mess	$ 53,073 13
Maintenance of convicts	15,890 11
Discharge expenses	1,502 56
Working expenses	19,975 35
Industries	6,829 21
Prison equipment	5,607 69
Miscellaneous	1,761 60
	$104,639 65
Our appropriations for the year amounted to	$104,750 00
Leaving an unexpended balance for the year of	$110 35

Discipline.—The conduct of the convicts during the year has been satisfactory, there were fewer reports and not so many punishments as the year previous—ninety per cent of the reports are for trivial offences, generally due more to thoughtlessness on the part of the convicts than to wickedness, and even this, I regret to say, is mainly caused by the great number of youths that are sentenced to this institution. I mean youths of about 16 to 20 years of age, and who are more disposed to play amongst themselves than to work. Nevertheless, the amount of work done, individually, is satisfactory. The greater number of these convicts are very intelligent, can read and write, most of them learn a trade and will be in position to earn an honest living, should they be so disposed on their discharge. A great number of those convicts that have a trade, are very valuable to the institution as far as the value of the labour is concerned, and I must say that quite a number of them take as much interest and are as steady at work as if they were working for wages outside. This is, of course, very advantageous to the younger convicts learning a trade, as in working with trained mechanics they have the benefit of their experience.

During the year one convict tried to escape, but he was recaptured ten minutes after his disappearance, being overtaken at about 400 to 500 yards from the walls of the penitentiary, arrested by the mounted guard, and was brought back to the penitentiary. Two other convicts made holes in their cells, but the vigilance of the guards caused them to be detected and no doubt frustrated their intention to escape. They were brought before the court and the three of them each condemned to four months over and above the sentence they were serving.

In May last, we had a case of poisoning. One convict drank shellac, which caused his death. The coroner of the district was notified, an inquest took place and the verdict of the jury exonerated of all blame the authorities of the institution.

Ornamental grounds.—It was late last summer before we started work on the terrace in front of the penitentiary. We have kept steady at it and half of the frontage will be completed by the fall. We have this year the benefit of what had been previously done. The well kept grounds in front of the penitentiary are pleasing to the eye and an object of admiration to all strangers. We have now a grass lawn covering a space of 500 feet long by 75 feet broad; last winter, bad as it was, on account of the light fall of snow, offered very little protection to the grass, still it has hardly caused any damage. We are now grading the other half of the grounds, and hope that before the fall the whole of the work, or nearly so, will be completed.

The improvement of the grounds in front of the penitentiary is a vast undertaking, the soil being, more or less, a mass of solid rock. The work is naturally difficult and slow, but once the grading is finished and the whole covered with grass, it will give us a terrace 1,400 feet long by 75 feet broad, and I think will compare favourably in beauty, size and ornamentation with any in the province.

Consider that these improvements were a necessity, it will tend to give both a tidy and stately appearance to our imposing pile of buildings, the whole without cost, as the work is done by convicts under the direction of the officers of the penitentiary.

Kitchen.—The location of the convicts cooking kitchen in the main building close to the public street and main entrance, has been most undesirable for this department. The urgent need of shop extension has prevented the erection of a new kitchen. The utilization of exhaust steam from the electric boilers for heating has enabled us to dispense with the four boilers in the dome basement. The large space thus secured has solved the kitchen difficulty; this apartment is now being fitted up as a kitchen.

A new bake oven is being built, and when completed the baking and the cooking will be centralized, supervision rendered easier and less expensive. The premises vacated by the bakery will be utilized as change room, laundry and drier; these changes will effect a considerable saving in the coal bill, being all located so much nearer to the power house for steam and electric energy. The security and convenience for serving convicts meals attained by these changes would in itself render the change most desirable. The saving in running expenses will be considerable, and still more prove the desirability of these improvements.

New buildings.—We have now taken possession of our new building, installing therein the machinists, blacksmiths, tinsmiths, stonebreakers, etc.

The building is of solid stone, and is the continuation of the stonecutters' shop, which was finished last year. As it stands now, the building has a frontage of 406 feet by 39 feet in width. The different shops are well ventilated, having the most modern improvements, water and water-closets in each shop. The whole is heated by exhaust steam—in fact nothing has been spared to make every shop as comfortable as possible as far as light and air is concerned. All the shops located in the old buildings have been moved into the new building.

The average number of convicts working in the different shops is about as follows:—

Stonecutters	from	45 to 50 men.
Stonebreakers	"	50 to 60 "
Machinists	"	25 to 30 "
Blacksmiths	"	30 to 35 "
Tinsmiths	"	15 to 20 "

The different shops occupy all the first floor, the second floor will be used later on by some other shops as required; we can easily give employment in the new shops, located in the first flat, to 200 men with plenty of room to each man. Each shop has a complete set of modern tools and machinery; the motive power is electricity. Each shop has also its own motor, varying in capacity according to need.

There is a trade instructor in each shop, enabling those convicts who are desiring of learning a trade to do so easily under the guidance of a competent instructor. I must say also, that the majority of young men sentenced to this institution ask to learn a trade and when their sentence has expired will be perfectly qualified to earn an honest living.

The shops occupied by the carpenters, tailors, shoemakers, painters and electricians are located in a spacious stone building in the centre of the grounds..

The average number of men employed in these shops is as follows:—

Carpenters	from	27 to 30 men.
Tailors	"	20 to 25 "
Painters		5 "
Shoemakers	"	20 to 25 "
Electricians	"	5 to 10 "

Farm.—Although we expected better returns from the farm, last year's crop, as a whole, was satisfactory. Of vegetables we had a large quantity. The same can be said of our crop of potatoes which were of good quality. As for hay and oats, we should have had more. Our crop of barley, pease and buckwheat was also inferior in quantity. Still, everything considered, this year's yield was far above the previous year, due no doubt to the fact that farm work was started at the proper time and better done than formerly. However, before the returns from the farm turn out what they should be, we must of necessity, continue to improve the soil, which has been so neglected for years past. Last year, and still more this year, we have greatly improved the soil, the ploughing has been done in good time and well done, drains have been cut wherever needed, thirty-seven carloads manure of first quality, or about one thousand five hundred loads, have been spread over the farm and well mixed, so that the soil is now in far better condition than ever it was before, and should the temperature continue favourable, I am very sanguine that the total crop this year will indeed turn out to be far above the average.

At present we have only one barn, situated in the centre of the farm, but considering that we have much more land under cultivation than formerly, one barn is far from sufficient to shelter our crops. We are therefore erecting two more barns, to be finished in time to receive the year's harvest. Each barn has one hundred feet frontage by forty feet width. One is being erected on the south-east portion of the farm near the quarry, the other one being built on that part of the farm west of the penitentiary. With these two new barns built at the two farthest ends and the other one in the centre of the farm, it will facilitate the work, and enable us to save time, as each part of the farm will have a barn near at hand for the storage of its products and allow us ample time for the threshing of our grain during the winter months.

Piggery.—For years past, we have had to buy, every year, a certain quantity of pork simply for the reason that the piggery is not large enough to hold the necessary stock of young pigs we should keep for the need of the institution. The piggery is not only too small, but the building is also very old and decayed, and the cost to repair and enlarge the present piggery would be so considerable that the department has come to the conclusion that it is preferable to build a new one in the course of the summer. We will, therefore, commence as soon as possible the erection of a larger building than the present one, and once it is finished we will have, without doubt, all the space necessary to fatten every year from 375 to 400 pigs of an average weight of 200 to 225 pounds, which will be quite sufficient for the requirements of the institution.

With the present population, which is increasing all the time, we are using from 45,000 to 50,000 pounds of pork per annum. Of the above quantity we have bought during the year 14,000 pounds, the balance, 31,427 pounds, we supplied ourselves. There is no doubt whatever that with a larger piggery we will in the future always be in position to supply all the pork necessary for the rations of the inmates of this penitentiary, and thus make quite a saving in the cost of our food supplies.

Brickyard.—The tardy spring, cold weather and the rain have seriously delayed our operations at the brickyard. We intend, nevertheless, to make this year the greatest quantity of bricks possible on account of the large quantity we shall require later on in the season.

The machinery, the yards, and in fact the whole of the plant is in perfect order, and if the weather is favourable we will this season make a success of this industry.

We have to build during the year a chimney or smokestack for the boilers, for which several thousand bricks will be required and which would cost a large sum of money had we to purchase the brick in the market. Apart from that chimney we shall also require quite a quantity for sundry other works that we are about to commence, so that we will certainly cause a saving of several thousand of dollars to the department by making our own brick on the premises.

Quarry.—This spring, on account of the great quantity of water in the quarry, we could not start work before the first week in May, nevertheless, we expect that by the fall, we will have quarried a sufficient quantity to meet our requirements, and also to have delivered here on the ground, all the stone necessary to keep our stonecutters busy at work during the winter. The quarry is situated on the south-east portion of the farm, the distance being about one mile from the penitentiary. We generally employ there, on an average, twenty-one convicts under an instructor and three guards. At a distance of about 60 to 75 feet from the centre of the quarry, at three different points, is erected a sentry box of about ten feet high. In each of these sentry boxes one guard is on duty, the surveillance is therefore as perfect as can be. We have also on the ground a small building used as a forge, a blacksmith (convict) is kept busy all day repairing tools; the convicts' dinner, as well as that of the guards, is sent daily in boilers so that it can be served hot. Dinner is given in a building used for that purpose only, and during dinner time the guards keep the same posts as during the working hours.

For the carrying of the stone to the penitentiary, we have a tramway. The stone is loaded on platform cars, drawn by horses; a convict is posted on the cars for the loading and unloading of the stone, under the keeping of a guard. The removal of the stone from the quarry to the penitentiary is thus easily and quickly done.

The quantity of stone taken from the quarry during the summer is quite ample to keep at work from 35 to 40 convicts the year round.

Engineers and blacksmiths.—These two departments have during the year done considerable work for the institution, beside completing the work on hand for cell barriers and doors, including necessary locking apparatus ordered on account of the penitentiaries of Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia, and which amounts to over $13,500, representing 13,000 days of labour. That amount added to whatever work was done in the tailor and tinsmith's shops for the same penitentiaries, including Dorchester and Kingston, and amounting to about $1,200 more, will be placed to the credit of the institution and will materially lessen the expense of this institution generally.

Water works and electric light.—The engines, boilers, pumps and electric motors have all been inspected during the year by consulting electrical engineer Roderick Parke, E.E, of Toronto. The whole plant is now in perfect order and gives full satisfaction.

Conclusion.—In conclusion I desire to express my sincere thanks to yourselves for the uniform kindness and courtesy which you have at all times extended to me, and also for the valuable assistance which you so often rendered me in the performance of my duties.

I also express my thanks to my deputy and my chief-keeper for their loyal assistance, and thank the general staff of this intsitution for the respect and devotedness which they have accorded me in the discharge of my duties.

The Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit my annual report embracing statistical tables and reports from the various departments of the Dorchester penitentiary for the year 1905-06.

We began the year with 233 convicts, 11 of whom were women, and closed with 211, of whom 11 were women. The average during the year was 229, a decrease of 21 from last year.

There were received from common jails 87 males and 7 females, 1 from military prison and 1 male and 1 female who had forfeited their parole, a total of 97.

There were discharged by expiration of sentence 49 males and 5 females, 10 males were pardoned, 46 males and 3 females paroled, 3 males transferred to Kingston, on account of insanity, 2 deaths and 1 discharged by order of court, making a total of 119.

There were no accidents of a serious nature and the general health of the convicts has been good.

There were three unsuccessful attempts to escape during the year.

Work on the new stone workshops, discontinued during the winter, was resumed early in spring and is progressing satisfactorily. Work is also being continued on the new stone reservoir begun last spring.

The farm last year produced a fair average crop; the result of the year's operations is shown in the farm instructor's report which, with statistical tables and other reports, are appended.

The discipline of the prison has been good and the officers have been faithful in the performance of their duties.

Your obedient servant,

J. A. KIRK,
Warden.

The daily average for the year was 203, as against 177 for the previous year.

The conduct and industry of the convicts has been very good (with few exceptions) as shown by the amount of work they have done during the year. The architect, I presume, will report fully on the constructional work. The whole of the basement has been remodelled and we have now a good roomy kitchen. The old bake oven was pulled down and a new oven and bread room built and an office and storeroom for the steward, who, from his office, can oversee the convicts working in the kitchen and bakery. The new cell wing, I hope, will be completed and ready for occupation this winter. My chief trade instructor, and the mason and brickmaker instructor, deserve great credit for the way they have pushed on the work. I should again strongly recommend a building being put up for a recreation room with a gymnasium attached for our officers. As we make our own brick, a building for this purpose would not cost much.

I have the honour to be, sirs,

Yours faithfully,

Warden.

This includes two convicts in the asylum.

We have opened up Wright Island quarry, Pitt Lake, situated twenty-seven miles from here by water. We have there fifteen convicts under a trade instructor, and expect before the season closes, about the 1st of September, to have about two hundred cords of wood, and five hundred tons of rock for foundations. Next season we hope to do better as it has taken about six weeks to erect log houses, wharf, etc.

This quarry will only be worked about three months a year, and will supply a long felt want in wood for brick kiln and rock for foundations of new buildings.

As by recent instruction the report on the work of a structural nature has been delegated to the architect, I will only say, that we occupied our new wing with accommodation for one hundred and sixteen convicts about January 1st, and in all respects it has more than fulfilled our expectations, giving us a total cell accommodation for two hundred and twenty-five convicts.

I have the honour to be, sirs,

Your obedient servant,

J. C. WHYTE,
Warden.

APPENDIX C.

SURGEONS' REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

To the Warden,

In accordance with the statutory requirements, I have the honour herewith to submit my annual report of the medical department of this penitentiary for the year ending June 30, 1906.

The health of the prisoners during the year has been a grade better than last year; notwithstanding this, besides having had a very large number under treatment in the hospital, the number of prisoners on outside treatment has exceeded that of former years. The medicine supplied twice daily to these prisoners for their ailments has the effect of preventing the hospital from being filled more frequently to its full capacity. An epidemic of la grippe, a disease which appears to be ubiquitous, was the cause of considerable trouble amongst our charge, many of whom suffered severely from its effects. The usual diarrhœal disorders, which may be said to be generally institutional, made their appearance during the summer months, and yielded to the standard dispensary remedies to the value of which hundreds can testify.

It is worthy of notice that the number of cases of pneumonia was unusually large during the cold season. These cases required prolonged hospital detention and it was the care and attention bestowed upon them night and day by the orderlies, who, I must say, have rendered good service under the direction of the overseers, that prevented numerous fatalities. There were no deaths from acute diseases. Great care is exercised in not permitting those who have suffered from any disease, from leaving the hospital and returning to work before entirely convalescent, as it generally means a re-admission.

There have been very few cases of tuberculosis, a fact which is worthy of mention. There was only one case in which the lungs were involved, but the patient suffered from the disease some time before he came under the purview of the law. The glandular variety is of more frequent occurrence, but as the disease is not necessarily fatal and the prisoner remains in good health whilst in pursuit of his daily work, and there is no infection, the demands for treatment are not so frequent. In the pulmonary variety we should be more impressed with the idea that it is only infectious and communicable where simple sanitary requirements have been neglected. The effects of confinement on systems hereditarily below the average and already weakened down by vice of all kinds, tend to hasten any disease latent in the system, and on this account an isolated case of one of the varieties of tubercular disease may be found cropping up. The laws of health cannot be infringed on with impunity, especially by those in whom there is a weak link in the ancestral chain. It may be said that, on the whole, we are comparatively free from chronic lung affections, despite these predetermining factors. Modern hygienic resources, the free employment of disinfectant material, happily tend to minimize, if not, to stamp out the number of occurrences of infectious diseases, and it is quite safe to say that a report of comparative immunity from these diseases is a safe indicator of the sanitary status of an institution.

The prison generally has been up to the usual standard in its various appointments, and its sanitary condition compares favourably with any other institution. The sewage works have been kept clean, free from objectionable odours, and have been operated in a very satisfactory manner.

The heating of the prison, the ventilation in the dormitories, workshops and other departments have been all that could be desired in the view-point of health and comfort. Our hospital has been thoroughly renovated, has been kept clean and comfortable and always ready for the reception of patients. Every effort, as usual, has been made for the punctilious carrying out of all directions, prescriptions and dietary, for the benefit of the sick. In the care of the sick all other measures of treatment may be regarded as other than subordinate to that of diet and careful and scientific nursing. Therapeutic measures count for naught in the absence of these pre-requisites, to which the sick are entitled everywhere. They are made, as far as possible, to feel, that they are the first consideration. It is fully impressed by the overseers on the orderlies, that the sick should not be left unnoticed or uncared for any length of time, for what seems a few minutes, to a sick person may seem hours, and leaves an impression of neglect which would be difficult to erase. Considering the amount of sickness, there were but few deaths; those who succumbed had been suffering from disease of a chronic character and were incurable from the start.

There is one case of suicide recorded. It is easy to see how shame, pain, misery and remorse may overcome a weak will. In cases of this kind the determination is often so fixed and obstinate that not only are the most unlikely means employed for the purpose, but the greatest ingenuity is frequently exercised in finding an opportunity for the commission of an act which the closest vigilance could not suffice to prevent.

There was during the year considerable sickness amongst the officers, for whom eight hundred and ninety-four prescriptions were filled, and to whom I paid, including night visits, 1,491 professional visits. One guard suffered a severe injury to his knee by a fall from his horse at the morning opening of prison, and was five months at his home under my care. Another guard was unfortunate in sustaining a fracture of his arm at his home on his evening return from duty and required attention for two months. Both these officers have their injured members restored to their former usefulness. With the exception of a couple of trifling injuries there were no accidents amongst the prisoners whilst engaged at their duties.

Insane ward.—This ward is kept scrupulously clean, and received its annual renovation during the year. The heating arrangements have given every satisfaction and the ventilation in the dormitories and other apartments has been assidiously looked after. The inmates are given an opportunity to amuse themselves with innocent games in the large recreation room, and during the summer months they are afforded every means to amuse themselves under the charge of officers on the grounds attached to the ward. There has been a decrease in the number of the inmates owing to a large number having regained their mental health and were returned to their usual work; of the number ten were discharged as cured and nine were so far improved as to be able to resume work in the prison proper.

Prison of isolation.—This ward is kept in a good sanitary condition and the inmates during the period of their involuntary sojourn in it, have not suffered in bodily or mental vigour as the result of solitary confinement. An inmate suffering from any acute disease is removed to the hospital where he can have the advantage of special care and diet until his recovery. The corridors and sleeping apartments give forcible evidence of the laws of sanitation being carried out. The living in this department is much enhanced by the perfect heating facilities. The inmates are kept clean in their person and clothing by those in charge.

Female ward.—The inmates of this ward enjoy fairly good health and at the end of the year there were no complaints in this matter. One of the inmates during the winter suffered from a serious illness, and I am pleased to be able to give testimony to the great care night and day by the matron and deputy-matron, to whom may be attributed her slow but complete recovery, when all hope at one time appeared to be lost. .Cleanliness in this ward is a marked feature.

Prescriptions.—The number of prescriptions dispensed during the year independent of hospital patients amounted to: For officers, 894; prison of isolation, 199; insane ward, 168; female ward, 90; dispensary patients, 5,221; number of days in hospital, 4,585; aggregate number of prisoners for whom treatment was prescribed, 6,116; number of cases of officers who received treatment, 126; number of prisoners treated in hospital, 442.

It is with much pleasure that I speak of the prompt and intelligent manner in which the hospital overseer, and his assistant, performed the duties of their office.

DANIEL PHELAN, M.D.,

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

St. Vincent de Paul, July 5, 1906.

To the Warden.

I have the honour to submit my annual report for the fiscal year 1905-1906.

The sanitary condition through the institution was very good. Four thousand nine hundred and forty consultations were given during the year, and forty-nine officers called for me on different occasions. Many of them had to stay home for many days, and though not seriously ill, could in no way fulfil their duty.

Two accidents which could have severe consequences occurred to convicts. One was caused by a piece of steel in the eye of a convict while working at the shoe shop. The other convict had his ankle opened, being struck by an axe while working at the carpenter's shop. Both of them have recovered very well.

I again call your attention to the hospital and isolating cells, which we need badly. Often during the year I had to keep under observation many convicts who were growing insane or had to be isolated for many days. The above patients are sent to the north wing, where very often they become worse. Those cells are too narrow and uncomfortable, being punishment cells. Moreover we have in the institution a few epileptics, and their cells are far from being what they ought to be.

As to the quality and the quantity of food given as rations to convicts, it cannot be better, being well prepared, well cooked, etc.

Deaths.—Three convicts died during the year, namely, Perry, Louis. alias Viau, inflammation of the bowels; Morrier, Louis, asthma and heart disease; Chouinard, Edouard, poisoned by shellac.

E. P. DOHERTY,
Surgeon.

MANITOBA.

STONY MOUNTAIN, July 14, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit my annual report for the year ending June 30, 1906.

During the past year the health of the prisoners has been fairly good. Excepting consumption and one case of typhoid fever there were no severe illnesses. The most frequent complaints were colds, constipation, diarrhœa, lumbago, ophthalmia and eczema.

There were no accidents.

Three deaths occurred during the year, all due to tuberculosis. Several convicts were liberated who were in the last stages of consumption and who had they remained, would have increased the death rate.

The alteration and renovation of the prison basement has much improved the ventilation, light and sanitary condition of same.

Better means of disposing of sewage and an increase in the available supply of water are necessary.

The health of your officers was not more satisfactory than last year. While nine officers were not reported sick at all during this year, nine others were absent on account of illness 177 days, or an average of nearly 20 days each. Number of days officers absent from duty on account of sickness, 346.

The expenditure for drugs was $166.33, making a slightly lower per capita cost than last year. The usual statements are appended.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

NEW WESTMINSTER, July 1, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit my annual report as surgeon of the British Columbia penitentiary for the year ended June 30, 1906.

The health of the convicts has been good, very few serious cases of illness having occurred. The number treated in hospital is slightly less than last year, while the number treated as dispensary patients shows a slight increase. The number of days spent in hospital was two hundred and fifty-three, and the number of prescriptions filled was one thousand nine hundred and ninety.

No death occurred during the year, but four convicts became insane and were removed to the provincial hospital for the insane.

I have the honour to be, sir.

APPENDIX D.

CHAPLAINS' REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

PORTSMOUTH, July 3, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to present herewith my report for the year ending June 30, 1906. At that date there were under my charge 294 prisoners—males, 290; females, 4—divided according to their religious beliefs as follows:—

Church of England	107
Methodist	80
Presbyterian	59
Baptist	21
Lutheran	13
Jewish	3
Salvation Army	2
Congregationalist	1
Greek Catholic	1
Not known (insane)	7
Total	294

Our library has been replenished by a number of useful books. It is, indeed, a comfort and a blessing to the men, and should receive whatever supplies of books are necessary to keep it in a permanent state of usefulness.

The school fills a most important place in the prison, and, perhaps, is not as highly prized as it ought to be. It is a pleasure to be able to say that only a few of the prisoners cannot read, and that many a youth has learned to read and write, and a trade also during his stay here; and so has carried away with him the means of earning a living as well as of self improvement. I feel, however, that every man here who cannot read should be obliged to learn, if he has any capacity to learn at all, and that attendance at school should be for such a part of the prison discipline.

On Sunday afternoon, November 26, 1905, we were favoured by a visit from the Right Rev. Dr. Mills, Bishop of Ontario. His Lordship preached a most impressive and helpful sermon which was much enjoyed by all present.

Our chapel services are as bright, devotional and interesting as ever, and the choir, notwithstanding continual changes, keeps up to about its usual strength, and does its part well.

Mr. R. Harvey, the talented organist of St. George's Cathedral, Kingston, and his brother, the leader of the choir, have several times during the year conducted service of song at the afternoon services in the chapel, much to the delight and instruction of all concerned. Their beautiful singing and playing afford, indeed, a rich treat.

Allow me to bear witness, as far as my knowledge and observation go, to the good work of the parole system, under the management of Mr. Archibald, the parole officer. I am convinced that by its means release has come to men at the right time. Men who have learnt the lesson which imprisonment was meant to teach them, who have not criminal instincts, and who were anxious to start afresh in life, are now gaining honest livelihoods.

In regard to my particular duties I desire to say that, in spite of much indifference, real or seeming, of hardness of heart, and contempt of God's Word and Commandment among such a variety of characters, one meets continually with much encouragement. It is an inspiration to perseverance in one's efforts for the good of men to be tendered thanks for instructions received, for thoughts suggested by sermons and lectures, and to hear from personal interviews with men, acknowledgments to the effect that they have in the prison really first began to learn and think about God and the Christian religion, the duty and nature of prayer and of public worship, and have been disposed to think seriously of life and its responsibilities

Hence, imprisonment has, to many who have suffered from atrophy of the moral sense, and who had apparently forgotten God altogether, proved to be the turning point for good in their lives. It is well, therefore, to remember that some one says 'Let us not be weary in well-doing for in due season we shall reap if we faint not.'

Once again thanking all the officers for their constant help and kindness.

I am yours respectfully

A. W. COOKE,
Protestant Chaplain.

PORTSMOUTH, July 1, 1906.

To the Warden

I beg herewith to submit my regular annual report as Catholic chaplain of the Kingston penitentiary, for the past fiscal year, ended on the 30th of last month.

On that date I find recorded on the chapel register 160 men and 6 women. The number of men corresponds exactly to the number recorded a year ago.

The regular religious services were held as usual on all Sundays and holy days throughout the year, and the same good behaviour on the part of the convicts was found in evidence.

I am pleased to inform you that my relations with all the officers of the institution, irrespective of creed, have invariably been marked by the greatest cordiality, and in consequence, wish to offer them hereby the expression of my most sincere gratitude for their past acts of courtesy and kindness

I remain, my dear sir,
Yours most respectfully,

M. McDONALD,
Roman Catholic Chaplain.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

ST VINCENT DE PAUL, June 30, 1906.

To the Warden.

Allow me to forward the annual report of the Catholic chaplain for the fiscal year ending with the present date.

Owing to the generous help of Reverend Father Gascon, Franciscan, the appointed extraordinary confessor of the pastor and assistant priests of our parish, the success of the religious attendance is increasing. A still greater number of convicts discharge their duties and more regularly share in the divine services.

We may happily trace up a part of this rejoicing progress to the zealous efforts of our organist and chanters to perfect and vary the singing during our ceremonies.

The number of Catholics has increased. At the beginning of the present year there were 294 men in our chapel, since, 99 have gone, including 34 licenses, 1 pardon, 3 deaths and 2 transfers to Kingston; 145 have arrived, putting the number up to 340.

Our chapel needs considerable repairs, and I hear that the authorities are aiming at restoring it soon to its genuine splendour.

For this I heartily thank them, as well as for all their other good intentions in our behalf.

Let me, sir, thankfully subscribe,

Your respectful servant,

L. O. HAREL, Priest,
Roman Catholic Chaplain.

St. Vincent de Paul, July 2, 1906.

To the Warden.

I have the honour to present herewith my eleventh annual report as Protestant chaplain of this penitentiary, for the year ended June 30, 1906.

Chapel.—The deportment of the men at our services is still very good, and if there be any change, it is for the better.

Led by the choir they join cheerfully in the singing, while the responses are general and hearty.

The chaplain has been cheered and encouraged by the fact that the chilling reserve, with which his private exhortations were in some instances received, has been laid aside, and his counsels listened to with more attention.

It is also, I hope, a sign of progress that the number of communicants has increased.

School.—Ten of the men under my charge have attended school as compared with nine last year.

Library.—The library has been augmented by the addition of new volumes of recent publications, and still plays an important part in the prison life of the men, as is manifested by the eagerness with which the books are received, and the disappointment shown by those who, for some offence, are deprived of the privilege of getting books.

I feel that my report would be incomplete without some recognition of the noble work of the Montreal Prisoners' Aid Association, in helping released prisoners to find work, supplying them in the meanwhile, when necessary, with meals, providing them in the cold weather with overcoats, warm underwear, etc., and, in some cases, assisting them financially to reach their homes. 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these.'

I have the honour to be, sir,

Yours most obediently,

JOHN ROLLIT,

Protestant Chaplain.

DORCHESTER.

DORCHESTER, July 25, 1906.

To the Warden,

We have the honour of presenting the annual report as acting Protestant chaplains of this penitentiary for the year ended June 30, 1906.

On that day there were under our care 134 prisoners, of whom 8 were women, as against 127 for the corresponding day last year.

The following is the religious distribution:—

Church of England	60
Baptist	35
Presbyterian	21
Methodist	15
Lutheran	2
Deist	1
Total	134

The work here during the past year has been carried on by the four Protestant ministers of the town, whose names are hereunder affixed.

The regular Sunday services have been held. The men regularly visited, both in cells and hospital.

A week-day Bible class is held in mid-week during noon hour. It is optional with the convicts whether they attend or not. The average attendance is 58.23. One of the prisoners has charge of the organ at this gathering.

Four hundred and fifty-four volumes have been added to the library. This does not include 14 French volumes.

The school, under Mr. Papineau, is doing a good work.

One convict died on Sunday, September 24, 1905. His son took charge of the remains, taking them to his home.

We tender our gratitude to the warden, deputy warden, and officers generally, for the assistance they have so readily and courteously given to us while in the discharge of our duties as chaplains.

Your obedient servants,

EDWIN A. HALL,
BYRON H. THOMAS,
C. H. MANATON,
JOSEPH McNEILL.

DORCHESTER, N.B., July 1, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit to you my eighteenth annual report as Roman Catholic chaplain of this penitentiary for the fiscal year ended June 30.

On that day there were under my spiritual charge 74 males and 3 females, a grand total of 77, as against 106 recorded in my last report.

This is certainly, as to the number, a marked decrease on the last few years. Whilst it is permitted to ascribe this decrease to the really good management and discipline of our penitentiaries, still I would be more inclined to believe that it is due to a higher standard of morality and good order in our provinces.

This year was marked here by a most gratifying event for the convicts under my care. I wish to refer to the official visit of the Right Rev. Dr. Casey, Bishop of St. John, N.B., who administered the sacrament of confirmation to 23 convicts. His Lordship spent a couple of hours with the convicts and expressed himself, both publicly and privately, as being quite pleased with their general good appearance and demeanour.

You will further allow me to bring into this report an instance of the remarkable working of God's grace into the hearts of some of these poor prisoners.

A long-sentenced convict, who came here branded with the reputation of being a hardened criminal and who assuredly proved to be very obdurate for years, was at last softened, as I said, by God's grace, and has since become truly converted.

So sincere was his conversion that leaving, with due permission, our penitentiary, he has entered into a very strict monastery where he can henceforth lead a secluded and penitential life. He has been there already a few months and seems, by all accounts, to be happy and quite determined to persevere.

A large number of good and interesting books have been added to the library. We all feel grateful to the department for this generous allowance.

As to all things which pertain to or come within the range of my office, I beg leave, in fine, to express my entire satisfaction concerning the good behaviour and the spirit of submission of the convicts under my care.

I conclude in expressing again my heartfelt appreciation of the courtesy shown to me by the entire staff, in the discharge of my official duties.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your humble servant,

A. D. CORMIER, Pst.

A comparison of the foregoing figures with those of last year will show a decrease in the number of convicts received, and an increase in the number of convicts discharged by clemency of the Crown.

Of the 33 men received during the year, I find that in 12 cases the home influence has been good; in 6 cases, fair; in 5 cases, poor; in 1 case, bad; and in 9 cases there has been no home influence at all. Twenty-two out of the 33 attended Sunday school with more or less regularity. The age of leaving Sunday school has varied from 12 to 20 years, while the average age of leaving appears to be a trifle over 15 years. It is impossible to overestimate the importance of home training in the development of character.

The old adage, 'an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure,' is everlastingly true, and if crime is to be eliminated by preventing it, the knife must be used at the root of the disease, and either all vicious and pernicious influences removed from the child, or the child removed from these things destructive of all true and noble growth.

I find that of the convicts received during the year, 12 did not use liquor in any form, 21 have used liquor, and 14 of these acknowledge that liquor has placed them in their present position. The drink traffic is unquestionably the curse of the country, landing men in the felon's dock, filling the jails and penitentiaries. Surely the time is not far distant when a distinction will be made between the man who is not primarily a criminal, but who under a diseased condition of the brain has committed a crime, and the man who is a criminal in the first instance, and a drunkard incidentally.

The choir, under the leadership of Mr. McKee, is in an excellent state of efficiency, and the organ is ably presided over by Mrs. Teather, who entered upon her duties on May 1.

The men look forward to the regular Sunday service. The excellent order and close attention encourages one to spare no pains that the message may indeed be helpful and stimulating. The cynic may attach very little importance to work of this nature among convicts, but we cannot afford to forget that each devotional act in which the men take part is the seed of a good habit, which in its turn develops character and shapes destiny.

The individual conferences which I hold with the men in the privacy of my own room I consider of great importance. The cell to cell visitation I do not find of much value from a spiritual standpoint, although to a limited extent I adopt it, but I do find the visit to the hospital of considerable importance. It might be possible to say that there are some individuals into whose hearts and lives the Spirit of the living God has come, but I am not sure that it is desirable to do this, however much one may feel that to be the case. It seems to me more fitting to allow the future to tell its own story, as after all it is by their fruit that they shall be known. However, it is beyond the realm of the peradventure to say that under God there are some men at least who have left this institution better fitted for citizenship and better men in every respect than when they entered it.

The library, I find, is taken considerable advantage of, and the books being both interesting and instructive, are a factor in aiding the chaplain in his work.

The school is once again in full operation, and is from time to time visited by me.

I take this opportunity to thank you and your staff of officers for the continued courtesy extended to me in the discharge of my official duties.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

ALBERT EDWARD VERT,

Protestant Chaplain.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., July 18, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to present my annual report for the year ended June 30, 1906.

Divine service has been regularly held on Sundays and holidays during the year. The conduct of convicts at the time of the service and their attention to instruction have been all that could be desired.

Nearly all the Catholic convicts discharged during the year have written me, some have visited me and I have every reason to believe that all are now leading good lives as law-abiding citizens. Without any exception they speak in terms of praise of the officers for the fair and just treatment received while in prison.

In closing, I beg to thank you, the deputy warden and officers for uniform courtesy and cheerful assistance in the discharge of my duty.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

EDM. PEYTAVIN,

Roman Catholic Chaplain.

APPENDIX E.

SCHOOL INSTRUCTORS' REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, July 3, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit my eleventh annual report of the school in this penitentiary, for the year ended June 30, 1906.

The total number enrolled during the year was 75. Of this number 21 passed out capable of reading and writing intelligently, and with a fair knowledge of the elementary rules of arithmetic; 4 retired owing to expiration of sentence.

The present attendance is 50. The studies of these are divided as follows:—

Reading in Part I	16
Reading in Part II	12
Reading in second book and writing	14
Reading in third book, writing and arithmetic	8

The school has been conducted by Mr. H. S. Begg, assistant, in a most satisfactory manner. The pupils show every desire to profit by the opportunities afforded them of improving their minds, and while the great majority of newcomers were foreigners, from most of the countries of the world, and unable to speak or write English, their progress has been very encouraging. Their conduct while at school is generally all that could be wished for, and they are most attentive to the instruction given in their respective cells during the evening.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. A. GUNN,
School Instructor.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

St. Vincent de Paul, June 30, 1906.

To the Warden.

I have the honour to submit my twenty-fourth and last report as school instructor and librarian of this institution for the year ending to-day.

The number of men enrolled during the year was 47; twenty-two for English and twenty-five for French.

I may be allowed, I think, in justice to myself, to say that during my long service as school instructor of this institution, whatever success I may have had, I always endeavoured to render the school useful and interesting. I exerted myself to impress on the mind of my pupils the necessity of bettering their conditions by making strenuous efforts to acquire, at school, those rudiments of knowledge the lacking of which is perhaps the cause of their misfortune.

At the close of the year the school register shows an attendance of 18 pupils, classified as follows:—

Reading, dictation, and arithmetic	10
Spelling, reading, writing, and tables	8

Fifty men were supplied with school requisites to work in their cells.

The library continues to take more importance by the addition of new books, but the men do not mind to read them, having cast their preference on magazines which are not published often enough to their liking.

I have the honour to remain, sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. T. DORAIS,
School Instructor.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit my annual report of the school and library in this penitentiary for the year ended June 30, 1906.

At the beginning of the year the school was attended by thirty-seven pupils.

The present attendance is forty, divided as follows:—

Reading, writing and arithmetic	19
Reading and writing	10
Reading only	11

Six were reading in the fourth English reader, seven in the third, sixteen in the second, three in the first, and eight in the primers.

The conduct of the pupils and the progress made have been very satisfactory; they evidently appreciate the privilege afforded for instruction.

I beg to thank my superiors for the assistance given me in the discharge of my duties.

STONY MOUNTAIN, July 2, 1906.

To the Warden,

I have the honour to submit my fourteenth annual report of the school of this institution for the year ended June 30, 1906.

Owing to the short term and young convicts being put in the temporary prison, the average daily attendance was only 10·25, which is quite below the average of past years.

Of the twenty-eight convicts admitted to school during the year, two had to learn the alphabet, five knew the alphabet only, six read in the first part of first reader, eleven in the second part, and four in the second reader.

The attendance, just now, is sixteen, classified as follows:—

First reader, part first	6
First reader, part second	7
Second reader and spelling	2
Arithmetic	1

The conduct and application of the pupils, while at school, were most satisfactory, and fair progress was made.

In conclusion, I beg to tender you my most sincere thanks for your kindness towards me, and for the assistance given me in the discharge of my duties.

APPENDIX M.

FARM REPORTS.

KINGSTON.

KINGSTON, June 30, 1906.

J. M. PLATT, Esq.
Warden.

In connection with the statement of farm transactions for the past year, a few remarks regarding some of the work of the farm seems quite appropriate, for the reason, that considerable time and labour have been expended in addition to that necessary to carry on the ordinary work, as is shown under the heading 'Farm Improvements.'

As you are aware, certain portions of the farm have been used in the past as quarries, but for some time abandoned as such, and which have since remained in a very rough and dangerous condition. A beginning has been made to fill in these unsightly excavations so as to conform as near as possible with the surrounding parts of the farm. The one south of the water tower has been filled in with rough material from various sources and the whole covered with soil. It is now under cultivation and greatly improves the appearance of the farm in that locality.

Immediately in front of the farm house similar work has been in progress during the past winter, which was unusually favourable for work of that kind. Although not completed, the vast improvement already made is sufficient to justify a continuation of the work until finished.

Underdraining.—This important work has also received considerable attention since our last report. Various sections of the farm, which have hitherto been almost unproductive especially in seasons of excessive rainfall, have been underlaid with three-inch tile, the beneficial effects of which are already quite evident. Work of this kind entails a large amount of manual labour but the lasting benefits which undoubtedly follow when the work is properly done, quite justifies the expense and we strongly recommend its continuance as time and other duties permit.

Barn accommodation.—For several seasons past we have been not only greatly inconvenienced by the lack of sufficient barn accommodation, but serious loss is annually incurred by depreciation in value of crops through unavoidable exposure to unfavourable weather conditions. It is evident from the number of stacks to be seen at almost any time of the year that the productiveness of the farm has outgrown the storage capacity of our farm buildings. Furthermore, the acreage under cultivation has been increased in recent years by the purchase of more land, but no corresponding provision for storing the crop has been made. Your favourable consideration of this matter will be appreciated.

Farm Instructor.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.

St. Vincent de Paul, June 30, 1906.

Oscar Beauchamp, Esq.,
Warden.

Sir,—I have the honour to submit to you my first annual report, together with farm statements, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906.

The past year has been a favourable one for the farm produce, both grain and vegetables yielding a very good crop.

Much time and labour was devoted to the draining and cleaning of the farm during the year. No good results can be expected until it is properly drained.

I am pleased to see that my suggestions, namely: the purchase of manure and building of barns have been sanctioned by the department. This may appear expensive at first, but I am confident that before long it will prove a good investment.

A modern piggery would be much appreciated. The present one can not last more than a couple of years, and it is too small to house the number of pigs required. To supply the institution with pork during the whole year, it would be necessary to keep from 350 to 400 pigs in stock, and the present piggery cannot hold more than half that number comfortably.

Owing to a cold wet spring seeding was greatly delayed this year, nevertheless, prospects look favourable for a good harvest.

In conclusion, allow me to thank you for the valuable aid you have given me in the discharge of my dnties and for the great interest you manifest for the success of the farm.

T. J. BYRNE,
Farm Instructor.

DORCHESTER.

DORCHESTER, July 1, 1906.

To J. A. KIRK, Esq.
Warden.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report of the operations upon the farm for the year ending June 30, 1906.

The prolonged drought during the summer months affected all the crops to a certain extent, more particularly the hay crop, which was not up to the average.

The potatoes were seized with a blight which was very prevalent in this section of the country last year. This prevented them from keeping well.

During the year we have cleared up 10 acres of rough upland and reditched and laid down 21 acres of marsh land. Total acres in crop, 86.

MANITOBA.

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY, July 14, 1906.

Lieut.-Col. A. G. IRVINE, I.S.O.,
Warden.

SIR,—I respectfully submit the annual farm statement for the year ended June 30, 1906.

Barley and oats, 6,200 bush.; potatoes, 650 bush.; turnips, 600 bush.; onions, 56 bush.; carrots, 80 bush.; beets, 40 bush.; hay, 150 tons.

The year has been a fairly successful one. The loss of three of our best horses last fall made an expenditure of $700 necessary to replace them. Our acreage of grain is growing less each year owing to seeding down to hay. This was necessary, not being able to keep up with the work, owing to the brickyard and cell extension of prison, which takes considerable team labour during the time farm operations are carried on. When the buildings are completed the land can be put under crop again.

Our crops for the year are about the average. The cut-worm did some damage to oats, which was later sown with barley. The June rains drowned a few potatoes on low spots. The potato bugs are very bad this year, it being the first time we iever had to use Paris green.

The railroad spur is causing no end of trouble at present on account of the gates being left open and our cattle straying away.

In the statement this year, 178 lbs. of beef are charged to the steward at 7c. per lb. This beef was cut up and sold to officers on report by the steward before there was any butcher shop in the locality. The same thing was done last year, which makes the charges to the steward above contract price. Anything that is supplied the institution is always charged contract price; the same thing has been done with pork, and that is the reason the farm statement as to amount supplied steward and the steward's statement as to prison products supplied the institution do not agree, but in future any beef or pork supplied officers can go through the storekeeper's books direct from the farm.

W. GRAHAME,
Farm Instructor.

BRITISH COLUMBIA,

To Lieut.-Col. J. C. WHYTE,
Warden.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906.

Work in all branches of the farm has been very satisfactory.

The weather was all that could be desired, and crops were most successful.

With the exception of land recently purchased, all available arable land is under cultivation. Next year several acres of the newly acquired land will be cultivated to take the place of that used by new buildings.

JOHN McNIVEN,
Farm Instructor.

APPENDIX O

PRINCE ALBERT JAIL

JAILER'S REPORT.

PRINCE ALBERT, SASK., July 2, 1906.

The Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit my annual report together with sundry returns for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1906.

During the year two prisoners attempted to escape, but were promptly recaptured. Full particulars were sent you at the time.

One death occurred during the year, Alexis Pandmanoff, one of the Doukhobor prisoners transferred from Regina jail. These prisoners refused to eat the prison diet, and were forced fed on soup and milk through a stomach tube. They were also fed three times daily on a ration of peanuts and apples. The prisoner Pandmanoff was in a very weak condition when brought here and died shortly afterwards. At my request a coroner's inquest was held, and the verdict rendered was, 'That the deceased came to his death as a direct and deliberate result of starvation, this condition being occasioned by the refusal of deceased to partake of the necessary amount of necessary food to sustain life.' A full report was sent you at the time.

The Doukhobor prisoners caused us an immense amount of trouble and expense, the extra cost being near $1,000.00, and this raised our per capita cost $40.

The daily average during the year was 25. The net per capita cost for the year is $336.71, being a considerable reduction from last year.

The proposed hospital and women's workroom have not been started yet, as we have had too much other work to do. I, however, expect to have it completed this year.

During the year the buildings have been kept in good repair, the roads graded around the farm where necessary, and the grounds around the prison have been greatly improved by lawns, terraces, flower beds and shrubs.

The present water and sewage arrangements will require attention in the near future. The intake pipe at the river will be only about 150 feet from the main sewer that is now being put down by the city of Prince Albert, and when the sewage system is completed and in operation, the water at our pipe in the river will not be fit for use. Arrangements should be made with the city authorities to supply the prison with water.

The cesspool is causing considerable annoyance to the residents in the immediate vicinity, and we should make arrangements to connect with the city sewage pipe.

During the winter months all the firewood used in the prison, and fence posts and rails to fence in the prison farm were cut and hauled from the woods on the north side of the river.

The farm lands were all fenced in the spring, and we are busy clearing off the brush from the south end of it. We should have more land, 37 acres is not sufficient.

The prisoners besides being employed on the above works, were engaged farming, gardening, sawing wood, cutting and hauling ice, and also doing all repairs to the buildings, implements, etc.

The Salvation Army hold regular services in the prison chapel every Sunday morning at 9.30 o'clock. The Church of England have service every alternate sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, and occasional Sunday services are held by the Reverend Fathers of the Roman Catholic church. All prisoners are invited to attend these services, and fully 90 per cent attend all of them.

During the month of September we were visited by Lieut.-Col. J. S. Pugmire, of the prison gate department, Salvation Army. Col. Pugmire held an afternoon service in the chapel and afterwards personally interwieved each prisoner. The Salvation Army represented by Col. Pugmire and the local officers here are certainly doing good work among the prisoners.

During the month of October we were favoured with a visit by Mr. G. W. Dawson, inspector of penitentiaries; we were very much pleased to have Mr. Dawson with us, and only regret that these visits are not semi-annual instead of annual occurrences.

As it is the intention of the provincial government to take over control of the jails in the new province, this will probably be the last report that I will be called upon to submit to you, and before closing, I must thank you most heartily for the many kindnesses that you have extended to myself and officers of the prison, and also thank you for the courteous and prompt attention to all matters referred to you during the eight years I have been connected with the prison.

I have the honour to be, sirs

Your obedient servant,

F. W. KERR,
Jailer.

SURGEON'S REPORT.

Prince Albert, Sask., June 30, 1906.

The Inspectors of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

Sirs,—I have the honour to submit my annual report for the year ending June 30, 1906.

We have much difficulty finding out information about insane people sent into the jail; no particulars are sent as to how they have been behaving or as to the question of whether they are dangerous or not.

The water supply of the jail and its disposal of sewage are questions of particular importance at present. The city of Prince Albert is putting in waterworks and a system of drainage. Both of these systems should be laid down to the jail. I would recommend that the city of Prince Albert should be asked if they will give the jail the chance of using both the water and sewage systems as soon as they can be installed. The present way of pumping water from the river is not satisfactory. The cesspool is in an unsanitary condition and should be done away with as soon as possible; it has always been a poor way of getting rid of the sewage.

There is still no accommodation for prisoners who are ill; some form of sickroom should be ready for use.

Last fall and early winter we had much trouble with 16 Doukhobor prisoners, as they refused to eat anything but peanuts and apples. For several weeks they had to be forced to eat, most of the time; nearly all of them had to be fed through a stomach tube. I regret to report that one of these Doukhobors died owing to starvation, he having got too weak before the forced feeding was commenced.

One of the prisoners, James Fraser, while undergoing sentence became insane and was transferred to Brandon asylum.

I have the honour to be, sirs,

Your obedient servant,

H. A. LESTOCK REID,
Jail Surgeon.

FARM REPORT.

PRINCE ALBERT, SASK., July 2, 1906.

The Inspectors of Penitentiaries.
Ottawa.

SIRS,—I have the honour to submit my annual report for the year ended June 30 1906.

The root crop grown on the farm during the past year was good. Vegetables to the value of $264.15 were grown; we had an abundant supply for the prison kitchen during the year.

The twelve acres under cultivation were sown to oats; the crop was not a very good one, it was cut green and fed to the prison stock.

This year I have sown the twelve acres to oats, and have cropped about thirteen acres of new land.

On the new land the crop is looking well, but on the old land it will not be of much value; the land will have to be summer-fallowed next year as the ground is run down and requires a rest.

This spring I fenced in the entire farm, about thirty-seven acres, and expect to have the bush all cleaned off and the land ready for next year's seeding.

A new iron disc harrow was purchased this spring, and a seed drill should be purchased for next spring's work.

F. W. KERR,
Jailer.

APPENDIX P

YUKON PENITENTIARIES

REPORT OF INSPECTOR.

DAWSON, Y.T., July 16, 1906.

The Comptroller,
R. N. W. M. Police,
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward herewith, for transmission to the Honourable The Minister of Justice, my report as inspector of penitentiaries in the Yukon Territory, for year ended June 30, 1906.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

Z. T. WOOD,
Assistant Commissioner.

DAWSON, Y.T., July 16, 1906.

The Honourable the Minister of Justice,
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith my report for year ended June 30, 1906, as inspector of penitentiaries in the Yukon Territory, and, as appendices thereto, reports from the wardens at Dawson and White Horse, respectively.

There has been no change during the past year in the system in vogue in the Yukon—the police guard rooms still being the penitentiaries and jails—and the officers commanding the R. N. W. M. Police at White Horse and Dawson being wardens and jailers thereof.

As will be seen from the wardens' reports, the condition of the Territory, from the point of law and order—as judged by the very few inmates of the jails—is most satisfactory; no long term prisoners having been confined at White Horse and but eight at Dawson.

Of the convicts incarcerated at the latter place, five were committed for terms of three years each, and the other three for two years each, at hard labour. Theft was the principal cause of their detention.

The health of the inmates of the jails was, on the whole, very good; no sickness of a serious nature has occurred, and the greater number of the cases coming under the surgeons' observation have been due to colds, stomach troubles and minor accidents.

The small number of convicts now in the Dawson penitentiary—only one being committed during the year—is no doubt attributable to the diminution in population in the northern portion of the Territory; amongst those who left were a large number of the criminal element who departed for pastures new in the various mining centres in Alaska.

In addition to the eight convicts at Dawson, some 224 persons, in all, were committed to our charge. This number, however, includes those sentenced to short terms of imprisonment, those committed and, also, those awaiting trial.

At White Horse eight common jail prisoners served various sentences ranging from fifteen days to four months; the principal cause being theft and offences in connection with the supplying of liquor to the natives.

While it is satisfactory to be able to report a diminution in crime at White Horse, we cannot expect this condition to continue, as, owing to the large influx of people into that end of the Territory, due to the opening up of new mining camps, the criminal element must be expected to increase. For this reason, while the accommodation in the jail at White Horse is ample for present requirements, preparation should be made for providing enlarged quarters; as stated in my last year's report, it is most difficult to maintain the discipline so essential to the proper conduct of a penitentiary or jail, when all classes of criminals, male and female, have to be crowded in a room 22 ft. x 12 ft.

It is a cause for much gratification that another year has elapsed without having to report an escape, especially as we have none of the resources found in penal institutions outside for the detention of prisoners. Those who have been immediately responsible for the safe-keeping of our criminals are entitled to great commendation.

No complaints were received from the prisoners during the year and their conduct has been very good.

In regard to any observations I might make tending towards improvement in our jail system in the Yukon, I can only refer to recommendations made in previous reports.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

Z. T. WOOD,

Assistant Commissioner, R.N.W.M. Police, and Inspector of Penitentiaries in the Yukon.

WHITE HORSE.

White Horse, Y.T., June 30, 1906.

To the Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Dawson, Y.T.

Sir,—I have the honour to submit herewith my annual report as warden of the White Horse penitentiary and common jail for the year ending June 30, 1906.

The R.N.W.M. Police guard room at this post is used for this purpose, the accommodation which it afforded in other years not meeting the requirements, but, was during the past year adequate to accommodate the small number of prisoners confined, who were exclusively common jail prisoners undergoing short terms of imprisonment. As it would be too optimistic to expect that the number of prisoners will remain at such a low ebb permanently, the permanent and transient population of the district being on the increase, I would draw your attention to the remarks in my last report respecting the lack of prison accommodation.

All clothing was supplied from our own stores, while the provisions were of good quality, the quantity issued being according to regulation.

The conduct of the prisoners was uniformly good, no breaches of prison discipline having occurred.

Sergt. McClelland had immediate charge of the prisoners, being assisted by a number of escorts in day time and by the non-commissioned officer or constable in charge and night guard at night.

The prison was inspected daily by the orderly officer and the surgeon, and weekly by myself as warden.

The health of the prisoners was excellent and there were no complaints.

I attach hereto the usual statistics.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. J. A. DEMERS, Inspr.,
Commanding 'H' Division,
Warden White Horse Penitentiary.

DAWSON.

Dawson, Y.T., July 1, 1906.

To the Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Yukon Territory, Dawson, Y.T.

Sir,—I have the honour to report as follows concerning the convicts confined in the Dawson penitentiary during the twelve months ended June 30, 1906.

BUILDING.

The convicts serving sentences in Dawson have been provided with quarters in the R.N.W.M. Police guard room, as in the past. This building while unsuitable for many reasons, not the least of which is the fact that it is also used for other classes of prisoners, is in fairly good condition, the floors and walls were repaired during the past year, a new roof put over part of it and the inside kalsomined. It is at the present time as comfortable as such a building erected several years ago for an altogether different purpose can be made.

CLOTHING.

A new supply of checked convict suits were received from the headquarters during the year, all other clothing being supplied locally from our stores and of the most suitable kind.

CONDUCT.

While the discipline maintained is strict, I am pleased to be able to report that few infractions had to be dealt with, and that the conduct of the convicts generally has been excellent.

HEALTH.

There has been no serious case of illness during the last twelve months, and not many cases of a trivial nature.

INSPECTIONS.

The penitentiary is visited and inspected daily at dinner time and various other hours, and has invariably been found in a satisfactory condition, the convicts having no complaints of any consequence and such as were made received immediate attention.

RATIONS.

The food supplied to convicts is ample in quantity, of good quality and well prepared.

STAFF.

The attendants consist of a provost, assistant provost, guards and escorts, who also have the common jail prisoners in charge. The latter are detailed daily from the non-commissioned officers and constables who are at the time available in the post for these duties, the average daily number required for this purpose being eleven, viz.: four for the ordinary night guard supplying the necessary sentries and seven for day escorts over all prisoners—convicts and common jail—at work outside. One escort has usually two or three prisoners in charge, and owing to the fact that there is no proper penitentiary or jail enclosure, it has only been by extreme care and alertness that attempts at escape have been prevented.

The provost and assistant provost are permanently detailed for duty over the prisoners. During the past year it has been necessary to make several changes owing to promotion or discharge, and as it requires a man with more than ordinary qualifications and tact to successfully perform the duties of provost, I trust it may be possible to obtain a little more permanency in the future.

LABOUR.

Convicts are employed at various work about barracks; in winter this consists chiefly in sawing wood and delivering it to the various buildings, and in shovelling snow.

In the summer the work consists of repairs to buildings and sidewalks, improving the grounds, and a variety of other labour which becomes necessary from day to day. They are constantly employed during working hours winter and summer.

The penitentiary is supplied with reading matter from R.N.W.M. Police sources.

A summary of convicts in our custody during the past twelve months is appended

I have the honour to be, sir,
